County Grand Jury Requests Federal Investigators Take Up Investigation of Alleged Ring Rule Methods in City

Boycott Against Oakland and Other Cities Claimed; District Attorney Asserts He Is Willing to Assist in Quiz

Charging that a combination or "trust" exists among the cement manufacturers which controls the price of cement in violation of federal laws and which has refused to ship cement into the bay region since last May 13, 1921, the Alameda County Grand Jury, after examining 40 witnesses in a three week hearing today in a letter recommends that the Federal Grand Jury investigate the alleged trust.

No indictments were returned against local material men charged with violation of the Cartwright anti-trust law, despite the fact that twelve independent contractors testified that a definite boycott had been established on the San Francisco bay region by the cement, sand and gravel dealers.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY IS ASKED TO ACT

Following is the letter which was signed by Shapiro as foreman and William L. Day as secretary of the grand jury.

Oakland, Cal., June 16, 1921.

To the Foreman of the Federal Grand Jury:

The Grand Jury of Alameda county has been investigating the building material situation in Alameda county, and has disclosed the fact that there is apparently a combination or trust existing among the cement manufacturers which controls the price of cement, and which has refused to ship cement into the bay region since May 13, 1921, and which has refused to ship cement into the bay region since May 13, 1921, and which has refused to ship cement into the bay region since May 13, 1921.

DECOY READY TO HELP, HE SAYS

Decoto has gathered all the data available in the lengthy investigation and is ready to present it to the Federal officials in San Francisco, he said today.

Because of the coastwise character of the cement trust which controls the industry from the Tehachas to the San Francisco bay area and as far as Salt Lake City, the grand jury considered it much better to turn the matter over to the Federal authorities.

PRETENSES IN PRICE REDUCTION CHARGED

The cement trust made a 40-cent reduction in the price of cement and then made up this loss by cutting down the allowance made on returned sacks from 25 cents to 15 cents, he also been charged by Decoto.

"Cement prices at $3.69 a barrel today is at its peak," says Decoto. "It is the highest price in the history of the pre-war price despite appearances to the contrary. In order to make it appear that the cement men were reducing prices the cement men ordered a 15-cent cut. They had been allowing the buyers 25 cents a sack for all sacks returned under the old price, but now they cut this to 15 cents. As there are four sacks to a barrel, this simply had the effect of raising the price 10 cents and nullifying the decrease."

LEADING COMPANIES IN "CEMENT COMBINE"

According to Decoto, the cement companies apparently in the combine include:

Cowell Lime and Cement company, Old Mission Portland Cement company, Pacific Portland Cement company, Portland and Santa Cruz Portland, all of San Francisco; the Riverside of Los Angeles and the Nephri Hard Portland Cement of Salt Lake City, besides many others.

Senator Reed Named in Suit for $31,250

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 17.—United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri was made defendant in a suit for $31,250 here today when L. C. Gabbert, defeated Democratic candidate for governor, filed papers against him. The suit is to recover attorney fees alleged to have been due Gabbert in a case in the Jackson county circuit court four years ago when he was a law partner of Reed and Jacques L. Harvey at Kansas City.

CHANGES IN IRISH HOME RULE BILL ASKED BY LORDS

Strong Pleas for Amendment of Measure Made; Reprisals Are Denounced.

LONDON, June 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Strong pleas for the amendment of the 17th home rule act came unexpectedly yesterday from the house of lords, the feature of the debate being the first speech made by Lord Duxton since he returned from South Africa, where he was governor general.

Incidentally he disclosed that he with other peers had expostulated with a view to negotiations for a settlement of the Irish difficulty, but he said they had arrived at the conclusion that the only practical initiative must come from the government.

The Earl of Donoughmore, a southern Irish peer, urged the government to play a "game" of amendments to the home rule act it was prepared to grant. He denounced the government policy of reprisals as detestable and degrading.

Lord Duxton said it was clear that the Irish home rule act was neither a panacea nor a remedy. On the contrary, so far as the south of Ireland was concerned it was a failure, and in his view, the only thing was for the premier to put on record how far he was willing to go.

The government will reply next Tuesday.

Gardner Denies Wife Gave Him Revolver

PORTLAND, Ore., June 17.—Before Roy Gardner, mail train robber, who was captured at Centralia, Wash., yesterday after a chase of six days, entered McNell Island prison last night to begin serving two sentences aggregating 50 years, he was handed a telegram from his wife, which read: "Dear Dad, I'm a good boy now. I love you still and hope to see you soon. Have been accused of giving you gun. Clear that up, Love—Dollie."

"I'll have to think that over, Hollie," was the reply. Later, while chatting with the officers as the launch neared the prison island, Gardner said the prisoners in San Francisco jail put up $1000 to have two guns smuggled into the jail, and he got one of them. "But it would cause too much trouble if I told," said Gardner, refusing to make further revelation.

"All I will say is that dear little woman, my wife, did not know one thing about it. She is a good, true woman, and wants to be decent, too."

How you can cook a whole meal at one time in the "Lorain" oven without watching it. Ask about the new way of putting up fruit and vegetables. Get the book we have for you on "LORAIN" OVEN CANNING.

LORAIN OVEN HEAT REGULATOR

Try Canning This New Way

Many women would like to put up fruits, vegetables and berries, but dread the tiring work and the hanging for hours over a steaming range during the hot summer weather. Here is a new and better way to put up things for winter use that makes canning so easy and pleasant that every woman will want to stock her preserve closet with good things to eat.

The new method is called "Lorain" Oven Canning, because it is done in the oven of a gas range equipped with the "Lorain" Oven Heat Regulator. The "Lorain" is essential because only with this heat regulator is it possible to insure exact, sustained oven temperatures over a long period of time.

To can fruit, berries, vegetables the "Lorain" way you clean and wash the material, blanch (scald) by dropping in boiling water according to instructions, then plunge in cold water. You then pack in glass jars, put caps loosely, and place jars in oven. Set the "Lorain" wheel at 250 degrees and leave for one to three hours as indicated by the chart. Then remove jars and seal tight.

That's all. And the results are fruit, vegetables and berries that taste as though they had just been picked.

N. D. G. W. PLEAD FOR MISSIONS OF CALIFORNIA

State History Also Urged At Closing Session of Grand Parlor.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—A plea for the restoration of the California missions and for the placing of a suitable text book of California history in the public schools of the state, was made at today's session of the grand parlor of the Native Daughters of the Golden West by Anna G. Andersen, of Salinas, chairman of the California history and landmark committee. She asked that the daughters co-operate with the Native Sons in both these movements. She lodged a protest against the proposal to change the names of some of the old towns of California from those of Spanish origin, mentioning particularly a movement of reality men to call San Jose, Greater Santa Clara.

The 1921 Grand Parlor adjourned today with the formal installation of the newly elected officers. The report of the returned delegates was made late yesterday. With Dr. Victory Derriek of Oakland automatically becoming grand president, Miss Alice Dougherty of Livermore, who had for many years held the important post of grand secretary, was re-elected in a contest in which she was opposed by Jennie A. Green of San Francisco. Mattie M. Stein of Lodi became grand vice-president and a candidate next year for the presidency. She was opposed by May Williamson of Santa Cruz.

Lucy E. Hammersmith and Jeanette E. Powell, both of San Francisco, were candidates for the office of grand outside general, the victory going to Mrs. Hammersmith. Rebecca Kempner of San Francisco is grand organizer. The following were elected grand trustees: Mrs. Marie E. Roberts, Ferndale; Miss Pearl Lamb, Tracy; Miss Lillie Tilden, Sacramento; Miss Katherine Glosier, Alturas; Dr. Winifred M. Byrne, San Francisco; Mrs. May H. Noonan, San Francisco; Mrs. Nina E. Williams, Manteca. Memorial services were held yesterday afternoon for departed members, the music being contributed by Mrs. Hortense Gilmore Kelley, San Francisco, and Lillian Troy, past grand organizer. Eulogies were offered by Mrs. Bertha A. Briggs to Stella Finkelde, past grand president of Santa Cruz parlor; and Mrs. Genevieve Watson Baker, past grand president of San Francisco parlor.

British Paper Outlines Anglo-American Pact

LONDON, June 17.—(By Associated Press.)—In a lengthy double spaced editorial, the London Times this morning discussed a despatch from its Washington correspondent interpreting the attitude of the Harding administration and American opinion on the general aspects of a plan for a working Anglo-American understanding of world-wide scope, particularly on disarmament.

The correspondent declared in substance that, while Ireland and the apparent unwillingness of equal opportunities in manufactured territories were the chief obstacles to a working arrangement between the United States and Great Britain, the first step to that end might be made in an agreement to limit expenditures for naval armaments. The despatch suggested the initiative in reaching such an agreement might come from the British side.

HUGHES IS QUOTED. The editorial, referring to the correspondent's suggestion that the coming imperial conference should result in announcement of the willingness of the British empire to agree to naval limitations, commended the idea that the plan for limitation be determined by a financial formula. It declared that while Great Britain eagerly approaches the desire for an agreement, it must be conditional to circumstances in which this country stands.

"Obligations of honor, as well as that any renewal of the treaty, maintenance and consolidation of our relations with France on the basis of the Versailles treaty," the newspaper asserted, "are essential parts of our world policy." The newspapers discussed the declaration of Charles E. Hughes, American Secretary of State, at Providence, R. I., June 15, that there should be no discrimination in favor of nationals of any country. While declaring Great Britain should without delay settle the Irish question, the editorial concluded by saying: "Those who wish Ireland well cannot make a worse mistake than to regard the Irish question, even by implication, an international problem."

JAPAN PACT OPPOSED. BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEADER WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LONDON, June 17.—Commander Carl von Bellieres, coalition Unionist member of Parliament, declared in the House of Commons this afternoon that Great Britain should not renew the treaty of alliance with Japan.

Commander Bellieres attacked the treaty, saying that he believed that the British nation, after enduring the shock of the great war, is averse to making an alliance with a power pursuing military ambitions. The alliance, Commander Bellieres thought, would help the Japanese military party instead of the liberals. Japan's navy personnel, it was pointed out, is now 7,000 men, exceeding the personnel of the German navy when the world war broke out in 1914.

Various other speakers demanded that any renewal of the treaty should be made upon a basis satisfactory to the United States and China.

Lenine Says Capitalism Is Necessary in Russia

By LOUISE BRYANT, International News Service Staff Correspondent. (Copyright, 1921, by International News Service.)

RIGA, June 17.—Communists may learn from the capitalists just as the red army learned from the militarists. This is the dictum expressed by Nicolas Lenine, head of the Moscow soviet, in a written interview received here today, explaining the change of policy at Moscow. Lenine summed up the new attitude of the soviet regarding its new attitude toward capitalism and its political concessions to the bourgeoisie as follows:

"It means a passing from war communism to a Socialistic exchange of goods. The enormous destruction caused by war and revolution aggravated by bad harvests in 1920 made a change necessary, in view of the impossibility of reconstructing the large industries under old conditions. An exchange of goods means free trade, which in turn means capitalism. This is not dangerous to proletarian power, for the proletariat still retain power. It only means the holding of transportation and large industries. I believe that experience will show that the measures were right.

"The present fight against speculation must be changed to a fight against circumvention of government control, registration and supervision.

"By such control we shall direct unavoidable capitalism, which is necessary to carry out the constructive measures we have in mind."

Lenine advised the Communists to support the small industries which supply the peasants. Also he asked the agriculturists to help the government in the distribution of raw materials.

"Develop initiative and personal independence by all possible means in the realm of agriculture and industry," said Lenine. "Communists must not hesitate to learn from the capitalists just as the red army learned from the militarists. We need experts and we must be willing to pay a good price for the information that the technician can furnish."

Moscow newspapers arriving here today revealed that there is no real opposition to Lenine's new program at Moscow. Lenine's proposals were recently adopted by the international congress.

BRITAIN ASKS U. S. TO HALT SHIPPING OF ARMS TO IRISH

Friendly Note Will Be Sent to Washington Following the Seizure of Guns.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEADER WIRE TO TRIBUNE. DUBLIN, June 17.—Two black and tan policemen were killed in ambush attack near Rathcoole today. The Sinn Féin casualties are not known, but are believed to have been heavy.

By EARLE C. REYNES, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, June 17.—Great Britain will address a friendly note to the United States requesting that the closest possible watch be maintained in the future to prevent contraband shipments of arms and munitions to Ireland for use against the crown forces, by the republicans. It was learned from a high source here this afternoon.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEADER WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LONDON, June 17.—A campaign of wire tapping and burning of signal cabins around London, attended by violence against signal men, was carried out last night by men who the police declared were "Sinn Féin" and members of the Irish Self-Determination League. Nine men were arrested.

It has been known for some time that the heads of the Irish Self-Determination League in London have been in correspondence with the so-called Irish republican army which has been directing the murders and outrages in Ireland, the police announcement said.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEADER WIRE TO TRIBUNE. NEW YORK, June 17.—Ownership of the 105 machine guns and the hundreds of spare parts seized yesterday by customs officials after they were found secreted on the steamship Sancti Spiritus, which was presumed to have been destined for Ireland, is still subject of investigation by government officials. The guns, by a federal court order, were restored yesterday to the customs officials from whom they were taken on a search-and-seizure warrant by the Irish police.

Customs officials said they would take the arms from the police headquarters to a customs storehouse today and there hold them until the mystery is solved. Federal agents are working on several angles of the case, including an attempt to trace the guns from the factory in which they were manufactured.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEADER WIRE TO TRIBUNE. DUBLIN, June 17.—Residents of Central Dublin were terrified last night by shots beginning soon after the curfew hour and continuing at half an hour intervals.

Three streets were swept by bullets. Searchlights played from Dublin castle on the area. A semi-official statement said civilians fired at sentries over the ruins of the burned customs house and the fire was returned.

At headquarters it was stated that bombs were thrown and revolver shots fired at a troop train in Dublin today. Three soldiers were wounded.

Mexican Soviet Factions Clash; Two Are Killed

(By Associated Press) MEXICO CITY, June 17.—Two persons were killed and four wounded during a fight between two Soviet factions in the eastern part of the state of Michoacan yesterday. The clash was caused by a dispute over the ownership of a hill midway between the two towns of Ensenaro and Villa Guadalupe. The two parties met near the hill yesterday and after a verbal dispute fell upon each other with their fists, clubs and guns. Soviet elements in the village of Chilota in the same state, yesterday attempted to take over municipal authority but federal troops arrived in time to suppress the uprising.

Body of War Hero to Be Buried Tomorrow

The remains of Archie H. Campbell, well-known Oakland boy, killed in the war, will be buried in Mount View cemetery with military honors from the Grant D. Miller undertaking parlors, 2472 East Fourth street, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

He was born in New York City, September 21, 1895, and came to Oakland when very young, graduating from the Fremont high school in 1917. Later he left employment at the Southern Pacific to enter the army, arriving in France December 17, 1918.

Notes from his diary show that he served in the battle of Chateau-Thierry and the battle of Juvigny on the Verdun front. He was wounded and gassed in the battle of Argonne and taken to the base hospital, where he died November 1, 1918. He was buried in France, but his body was recently removed to Oakland.

New Head Named for Air Mail Service

MEN FROM U. S. FORCED BY GREEKS TO JOIN ARMY

Protests From American Consuls Secure Freedom in Some Cases.

SMYRNA, June 17.—(By The Associated Press.)—American citizens are being impressed into the Greek army by agents of the Athens government, and George Horne, United States Consul here, has made a vigorous protest against the continuance of the practice. For many months past Americans even men who stayed in the army in France, have been taken forcibly from their homes or from vessels arriving from the United States and compelled to join the Greek force. One case is cited as typical of many. Private James Radcliff of New York, who was cited for bravery in the Argonne campaign and who has been receiving a disability allowance of $50 a month from the United States government, was recently arrested by Greek authorities at Smyrna. He came to Greece as an American citizen to be married, but was brought to Smyrna under guard. He escaped surveillance and appealed to the American Consul-General here, whose energetic action resulted in the man's immediate release. Radcliff is now returning to New York City with his wife.

Adverse money exchange in the United States is costing Great Britain $23,000,000 a year, more than the administrative cost of the country before the war.

Pastor Lauds Harding for Sunday Golf Ban CHICAGO, June 17.—"President Harding, by his refusal to join his golf cabinet on the links on Sunday, has set an example for the American people to follow. He has shown that he believes in remembering the Sabbath day to keep it holy. I suggest we as the president's telegram expressing our approval of his action." The address of two hundred arose and endorsed this suggestion by Rev. Charles S. Stevens, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, yesterday.

Ex-Convict Is Given
Indeterminate Term

STOCKTON, June 17.—Born in this county at Woodbridge in 1898, electing to follow a criminal life,
George Smith, ex-convict, suspected train robber and accused by the district attorney's office of numerous camp holdups and several store roberies in the northern end of the county, was yesterday sentenced by Superior Judge Buck to an indeterminate term in San Quentin, after pleading guilty to a charge of attempted jail-break here recently.
The specific charge was attempting to injure the county jail.

Smith led in several attempts to break out since his arrest in the spring. He is the last of four traction car robbers to be sent to San Quentin from this city. The officers declare him one of the most dangerous men ever held in the county jail.

Parole Violator
Serves Out Sentence

MARTINEZ, June 17.—Domingo
Vaira will testify today that breaking parole doesn't pay. Six months ago Vaira was sentenced from Richmond to serve 180 days in the county jail for peace disturbances.
He was discharged on parole after serving slightly more than 100 days.
A few days after his release he was sentenced to 30 days in jail on the same charge. He completed the thirty days' sentence yesterday and today, with parole revoked, began the 60 days of his unexpired 180 days' sentence from Richmond.

Officers Elected
by Richmond Lodge

RICHMOND, June 17.—Royal
Richmond Lodge No. 278, I. O. O.
F. M. U., elected officers for the coming year at a combined meeting and banquet last night. The meeting was held in Druids' hall and the rest of the evening was spent at the Colombo hotel.

The officers elected are as follows:
R. Armando, noble grand; Zullani Dovetta, vice-grand; D. Macario, P. aneli, maestro de liturgias; A. Marengo, guardia interna; P. D. Actis, warden;
Becaria Marchesio, conductor.

$50,000,000 Loan to Cattlemen Planned

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
WASHINGTON, June 17.—Arrangements for a loan of $50,000,000 to be extended to the cattle industry were expected to be completed today at a meeting of some twenty-five bankers of the east and west. The conference was for the purpose of putting the details of the loan into shape and to insure for making the funds available immediately.

Lodi Fire Department
Makes Fine Record

LODI, June 17.—Fire Chief Faust will report to the city trustees at the next meeting that losses, aggregating only $12,105, were suffered during the twelve months just ended, while the total property valuation of buildings saved was $581,- 373. The percentage of loss is considered remarkably small. The city has, according to Faust's report, fire-fighting apparatus worth $289.50 on hand.

LODGE'S SUPPORT WON.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Possibility of a dispute between the administration and Senator Lodge, Republican leader, over the nomination of Prof. Julius Klein of Boston, to be director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, has vanished.

VICTORY HIGHWAY TO SWING TOURIST STREAM TO NORTH

National Monument to Heroes
Will Stretch From N. Y.
to S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—A new transcontinental highway stretching from San Francisco to New York, which will assure Northern California of its just share of the millions annually spent by motor tourists, was announced today by the California State Automobile Association.

The association, with the object of furthering tourist travel into Northern California, 50 per cent of which is now diverted to Reno, Nev., to Southern California, will signpost the new highway to Kansas City. The new highway has been named the Victory highway and the Victory Highway Association of Topeka, Kan., has been organized, incorporated and is now being financed to carry forward the tremendous plan involved.

MAYOR STARTS TRUCK.
A specially designed California State Automobile Association truck, bearing on one side a painting of the Yosemite valley and on the other of the Golden Gate, left the city hall today to begin the work of signposting the Victory highway. Mayor James Rolph Jr. and other city officials started the truck on the first leg of its journey to Kansas City.

Engineer James W. Johnson of the association is engaged in completing a reconnaissance of the route. Over 5000 of the regulation C. S. A. A. road signs and auxiliary signs bearing the name of San Francisco and the mileage thereto coming West and New York going East will be erected. The regulation road signs will show the nearest town and large city with the mileage thereto in either direction. Eight or ten months will be required to complete the work.

For many years, mainly due to the fact that there is no adequately signed transcontinental route leading into Northern California, this section of the state has not received its just share of motor tourist traffic. Completion of the work outlined by the association will provide the remedy and the departure of the truck today is regarded as another concrete step toward a Greater Northern California.

MONUMENT TO HEROES.
The Victory highway will be a national monument in honor of the living and the dead who served in the great world war. The road will stretch from the Atlantic to the Pacific, passing through Topeka, Kan., the approximate geographical center of the United States. The eastern terminal of the highway will be New York and the western terminal San Francisco.

The Victory Highway Association, in selecting the route, has had in mind a highway that will best serve the people in time of peace and the government in time of war. The president of the Victory Highway Association is General W. S. Jefferson, a capitalist of Topeka, Kan., who early in 1921 conferred with officials of the State Automobile Association to obtain their cooperation in signing this national monument to those who fought and gave their lives in the world war.

The association plans to complete signing the highway to Jefferson City this year and by the fall of 1922 the entire route to New York will be marked. The signs of the association will stand as a monument to the sacrifices of San Francisco and Northern California.

Shriners' Conclave Ends With Banquet

DUES MOINES, Ia., June 17.—The forty-ninth annual conclave of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, ended last night following a banquet given in honor of Ernest A. Cuts of Savannah, Ga., the new imperial potentate.

Late yesterday the Imperial Council unanimously adopted a resolution presented by Colonel W. B. Melish of Cincinnati, past imperial potentate, "viewing with deep concern the continued persecution of Christians of the Near East." The resolution protests "to our Government, against these continued outrages, and requests our President and Congress to make such representations to the Allied Governments that armed forces shall be maintained in the Near East for the protection of the rights of these persecuted races." The delegate pledged the national order of Shriners to support Near East relief.

Stockton Tongman Is Found Murdered

FRESNO, June 17.—The lifeless body of Ma Chung, a Stockton Chinese, and said to be a member of the Bing Kong Tong, was discovered yesterday with bullet wounds in Parlier avenue, near the Fowler cemetery.

Chung is the third Bing Kong man killed since the first clash with the Suez On Tong in Fresno Chinatown recently.

Reports that a Chinese had been killed in the highway between Fowler and Selma were current in those towns shortly after 11 o'clock Wednesday night. The same report was received at the Sheriff's office here at that time, and Sheriff W. F. Jones, and deputies, spent several hours in a vain effort to find the body.

Fire and High Wind Cause $10,000 Damage

VISALIA, June 17.—Panned by a high wind which itself did considerable damage, fire last night burned over 1000 acres between Visalia and Lemon Cove, causing damage to grain crops estimated at $10,000. A light shower of rain aided in controlling the blaze. In Visalia the wind tore shingles from many roofs and near here entire roofs were torn from several barns.

JAPAN QUITS SIBERIA

RIGA, June 17.—A dispatch from Moscow to the newspaper Novyput, official Bolshevik organ here, says Japan has decided to evacuate Siberia, according to advice from M. Tomin, foreign minister of the Far Eastern republic at Chita.

BRIDGE COLLAPSES

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., June 17.—A new steel bridge, 320 feet long, being built across the Connecticut river here, collapsed. A working party of 23 men were on it when it fell into the river, but all were saved.

Total coinage of the United States from 1792 to 1915 amounted to $4,000,000,000.

HARDING PLANS CRUISE.
WASHINGTON, June 17.—A week-end cruise down the Potomac on the presidential yacht Mayflower, spend Sunday in Hampton Roads is under consideration by President and Mrs. Harding. If public affairs will permit they probably will leave Saturday afternoon with friends, on the presidential yacht Mayflower, spend Sunday in Hampton Roads and return Monday.

QUOTA ALMOST OBTAINED BY 100 PER CENT CLUB

The history of the national organization of One Hundred Per Cent Clubs, as well as that of the Hundred Per Cent Club of San Francisco, was outlined today in a talk given at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the One Hundred Per Cent Club, in the Hotel Oakland, by H. W. Gieseler, president of the One Hundred Per Cent Club of San Francisco.

The national organization had its inception in San Francisco at the close of the war and has grown until today it embraces nine other cities on the Pacific coast, including Los Angeles and Vancouver. There is also a one Hundred Per Cent Club in Tokyo and another in a Chinese port. Recently it has extended eastward, also.

Washington Notes

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Substitution of the Norris bill, proposing drastic federal regulation of the meat packing industry, for the more liberal control measure passed by the House, was defeated in the Senate yesterday by a margin of three votes. The vote was 34 to 37.

Leaders had expected the final vote on the House bill to come immediately afterward, but it was delayed by the introduction of another substitute by Senator Sterling of South Dakota. This substitute is virtually the same as the rejected Norris bill, except that it delegates administration to the Federal Trade Commission instead of to a livestock commission, as proposed in the latter. The House bill intrusts this power to the Secretary of Agriculture.

Abolition of the national advisory committee of aeronautics and transfer of its duties, powers and equipment to other government agencies was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Senator Borah, Idaho. The resolution is the first step in a campaign to remove naval and army aviation from the control of civilians and to establish a separate bureau of aeronautics.

Efforts to force a separate vote in the House on the Borah disarmament amendment to the naval bill, which goes back from a deadlocked conference to the House for further instructions of the conferees, were being made today by friends of the proposal. The disarmament rider had not been reached in conference. Differences over the Senate amendment increasing the navy personnel from 100,000 to 120,000 broke up the conference. It is upon this and Senate amendments for Pacific Coast naval base projects that the House conferees will ask further instructions.

Secretary Denby today took a hand in the deadlock between the House and Senate on the navy appropriation bill. He wrote Senator Pinckney, acting chairman of the Senate naval committee, that a personnel of 120,000 men for the navy was essential. This is the figure contended for by the Senate, while the House wanted only 100,000.

Clark Is Heard On Alternative Plan

Leon Clark, chairman of the Board of Freeholders, responded to a special invitation to appear today before the Optimists' Club at their weekly luncheon in the Hotel Oakland to speak on the subject of the alternative, discussing the issue in detail from the freeholder's viewpoint.

The members of the club have heard discussions of both sides of the alternative proposition, and desiring to have the situation outlined to them by the freeholders themselves, they extended the invitation to Chairman Clark to present the situation in a talk before the club.

It Wasn't Kidney Trouble! His Ailment Was Caused By Self-Poisoning

Allen was sure he had kidney trouble. He felt half dead, no appetite, headache, pain, fever every afternoon. In fact, an analysis showed albumen and pus in the urine. What more proof could anyone ask? Yet, he learned to his amazement that the whole trouble was a result of auto-intoxication or self-poisoning. Three bottles of Plantax removed the cause of the trouble by cleansing his system of poisons and restoring healthy action to the liver and bowels.

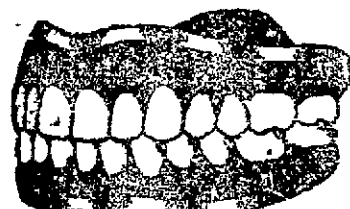

Many people have ailments directly due to self-poisoning, and wonder why medicines don't seem to help. The reason is that they treat the symptom instead of the cause. Plantax acts on the system of poisons, and nature does the rest. Simple, but true.

Plantax is purely herbal—contains no minerals. Anyone can take it, fine for all the family. Price $1 per bottle. Sold by the Owl Drug Co., and all leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

"TIZ" FOR ACHING SORE, TIRED FEET

People who are forced to stand on their feet all day know what sore, tender, sweaty, burning feet mean. They use "Tiz" and "Tiz" cures their feet right up. "Tiz" keeps feet in perfect condition. "Tiz" is the only remedy in the world that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet and cause tender, sore, tired, aching feet. It instantly stops the pain in corns, calluses and bunions. It's simply glorious. Ah! how comfortable your feet feel after using "Tiz". You'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't tighten and hurt your feet.

Get a box of "Tiz" now from any druggist. Just think! a whole year's foot comfort for only a few cents.—Advertisement.

CITIZEN ARMY TO BEGIN FORMATION ON COAST AT ONCE

Organization Will Be Nucleus for National Defense Force.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Formation of a great citizen army to form the nucleus in the newly organized reserves as provided for in the national defense act, amended June 4, 1920, will begin soon, following the appointment of Colonel Ernest V. Smith to the staff of Major General Charles H. Muir of the Ninth corps area. Colonel Smith was instructed to begin immediately the preliminary formation of the new citizen army which will be the nation's third line of defense.

The organized reserves will consist of officers and enlisted men who will form a nucleus for a national army of more than 2,000,000. FIFTEEN DAYS' SERVICE.

In detailing qualifications in the new organization Colonel Smith said that those enlisting are subject to involuntary service only in time of war and that a fifteen-day training period once every year is the only active service that may be demanded.

"It is the sense of the people and of Congress and is advocated by General Pershing himself," declares Colonel Smith, "that we do not need a large regular army which forms the first line of defense. Likewise we cannot maintain a large National Guard, which forms the second line of defense. Both of these lines have their own functions. The organized reserves will have but one purpose—to form the basis for a great citizen army in time of national emergency."

THREE DIVISIONS.

Three divisions will be stationed and organized in the Ninth corps area, according to Colonel Smith, namely, the 1st, the 96th and the 104th. It has been recommended that the 91st be composed of Californians, a recommendation which is awaiting the sanction of the war department. The majority of officers in each division, by regulations, shall be composed chiefly of officers holding commissions in the officers' reserve corps.

Associated with Colonel Smith in the Ninth corps area, citizen reserves will be Colonel Raymond W. Worth, Colonel Frederick L. Knudsen and others. Colonel Smith has been stationed in San Francisco as inspector and duties as chief of the organized reserves include a military survey preliminary to the perfection of the organization of the citizen armies.

POISON CARRIED BY FLIES, HELD CAUSE OF DEATH

Doctors Disagree, However, On Method of Assimilation by Five Children.

Working on the theory that the poisoning of the two Armstrong children in Tracy, Milton, aged 5, who died last Saturday, and Laddie, 3, who died Monday, was caused by a bacteria that contaminated the food, Dr. Frank S. Kelly of the State Board of Health, Dr. Allen R. Powers of Tracy, Dr. J. T. Myers of Livermore and Dr. C. A. Wherry of Oakland, have established that the deaths were caused by bacillus dysenteriae which is infectious, and apparently caused by a bacillus. It is carried by flies from one person to another. There is difference of opinion, however, as to how the poison was contracted by the five Armstrong children, three of whom will recover, it is believed.

Drs. Kelly, Myers and Powers are of the opinion that the poison was carried directly to the children by flies, while Dr. Wherry of Oakland, who is attending the Armstrong baby, declares that the poison is not of sufficient quantity as carried by flies to affect an infant. He declares that the bacteria was carried probably to milk, which was left standing in a warm place and provided a place of culture, the milk later being consumed by the children.

"The poison is of such minute particles when carried by flies that it cannot be transferred from one person to another with ill effect unless given an opportunity to develop," said Dr. Wherry today. "Milk, no matter how pure, is a rich field for bacteria when left standing in the heat, and poisonous substances of this nature mature rapidly."

Mimic Battle on Lake Merritt, Games And Parade to Be Features of Fourth

Present arrangements indicate that Oakland's Fourth of July celebration this year will far outstrip any previous effort in this city.

At a meeting of the general committee last night in the office of Mayor John L. Davis the tentative outline of the program was made known and given approval. This committee is made up of representatives from every veteran organization in the city and includes in its membership men who have served their country in the Civil war, Spanish-American war and the World war.

It has been practically agreed to hold a parade about noon in which there will be soldiers from the United States army in addition to at least a contingent of "jackies" from the Pacific fleet. The several patriotic organizations, fraternal bodies and other associations also will participate in this parade, including the two local posts of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, United Spanish War Veterans and the gray haired veterans of the Civil war.

BATTLE ON LAKE MERRITT.
The arrangements also contemplate a mimic battle at Lake Merritt during the afternoon. There will be a mimic fleet of warships in the center of the lake which will be engaged in combat with artillery stationed along the shores. Overhead fleet of fighting planes will drop bombs on the opposing forces. It is expected that at least forty planes will participate in the air circus and will stage an air battle not unlike the thrilling deeds of the war in Europe.

Following the mimic sea and land battle there will be a program of water sports and rest of the day. In the evening it is proposed to hold a fireworks display over the lake to be followed by a ball in the municipal auditorium. During the afternoon there will be a band concert in Lakeside park.

If present plans carry the fleet of forty or more airplanes, which will include ships of every type used in the World war, will be parked probably at Durant field for public inspection. There will be several passenger carrying planes in the fleet in addition to the several types of machines now in commercial use.

DANCING AT NIGHT.
The ball in the evening will be open to the public without cost and a regular jazz band will be on hand to furnish the music for the dancers. The program of the concert to be given in Lakeside park will be made up entirely of patriotic airs.

Following is the program of the central aquatic sports to be presented at Lake Merritt by the Oakland recreation department:

WIRELESS PHONES TO CARRY TRIBUNE RETURNS OF FIGHT

Dempsey-Carpentier Results to Be Flashed to All Points in Eastbay District.

Fight fans in San Jose, Tracy, Livermore, Hayward, Fruitvale, San Leandro, Berkeley, Alameda, Albany, Niles and many other places in the Eastbay district, will not have to leave their respective towns to get the returns of the Carpentier-Dempsey fight at Jersey City on July 1.

The TRIBUNE has arranged with amateur wireless telephone operators, of which there are nearly 400 in the Eastbay section, to receive the fight returns, round by round, and in a few days will publish a list of the places and the names of the operators in the various towns and cities, from as far south as San Jose, Niles and many other places, and as far north as Sacramento, who will receive the returns as they are dispatched from the tower of the Hotel Oakland, where a sending device is now being installed by P. D. Allen, one of the foremost wireless telephone amateurs in the state, who will have charge of The TRIBUNE wireless service.

A telephone connecting the sending station with the editorial rooms, will convey the fight news, round by round, to the wireless telephone operator, who will then transmit it through the air over a cable in use by the telephone company, serving thousands of fans in their own home towns. Through this arrangement, the fight returns will be received by the TRIBUNE within the brief space of a few seconds after they are received in the TRIBUNE editorial rooms. In other words, should Dempsey knock Carpentier out of the ring, the instant the blow is struck the wire will tell the tale, three seconds later the news will be transmitted over the telephone to the receiving station and in less than a minute from the time the blow is struck, the entire Eastbay district will know about it.

Watch for the list of places where you may want to get the fight returns. The list will be published in the next day or so, as soon as it can be compiled and the telephone tested. You can then decide in advance where you are going to spend the morning of July 2. The fight returns will begin to come in about ten o'clock, there being a difference of about four hours in Jersey City and the coast time. In addition to giving a wireless telephone service, The TRIBUNE will give its regular bulletin service.

Pseudo Policeman Proves to Be Robber

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Howard Dunbar, a young business man of 1951 Clement street, saved a considerable sum of money and property from being stolen when he was early today when he paraded with a man posing as a special officer. The pseudo policeman stopped Dunbar as he was leaving his home in the residence, 2750 Seventeenth avenue, exhibited a star and told him he held a warrant for his arrest. Dunbar suspected something wrong and demanded to see the warrant. It was not forthcoming, but three men suddenly appeared from a vacant building and all four set upon him. His mother-in-law hearing the excitement, opened the window and screamed. The four made their escape without taking anything.

$300 in His Socks Taken From Sailor

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Elmer Callahan, youthful sailor on one of Uncle Sam's ships, thought he was in a friendly port when he sighted two uniformed gobs on Market street last night and set out to see the sights. The trio finally hired a room at 232 Drumm street. Callahan was careful not to remove his socks, in which he had secreted $300 in $50 bills. When he awoke today all his clothes were gone and his socks had been taken from him with their contents.

Roadside Court to Be Held by Judge

BURLINGAME, June 17.—Judge Albert A. Meyer announced that he would hold roadside court at some undesignated spot on the highway between Hillsboro and Burlingame from July 2 over the Fourth of July. The police chiefs of both municipalities will bring their men in skirmish formation along the highway to await the onrush of holiday spenders. Justice will be meted swiftly by Judge Meyer from his roadside bench.

Whisky Disappears; Probe Is Ordered

SACRAMENTO, June 17.—The mysterious disappearance of three barrels of whiskey intended for the Sacramento county hospital and which was supposed to be in direct charge of County Purchasing Agent George V. Rice, until delivered to the proper custodian at the hospital, will be made the subject of a rigid examination, according to grand jury expert, W. D. Hamman.

CAR KILLS TWO.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 17.—Two men were instantly killed and a third seriously injured when a car of the Fort Dodge, Des Moines and Southern railroad crashed into an automobile carrying three men. The dead men were John J. Smith, 21 years old, and Thomas Houck, 30, both of Slater, Iowa, employees of the railway. The third man was slightly injured.

GAS KILLS THREE.

TELLURIDE, Colo., June 17.—Three men were killed by gas fumes that followed an explosion in a mine at a place near here. The dead are Joe and Louis Stampfl, brothers, and Cameron Stiles. Stiles made his way to safety but lost his life when he returned to the mine after summoning aid for his fellow workers.

S. F. GROCER ROBBED.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—A bandit operating with the aid of a lookout, held up Alexander J. Scott, in his grocery, 1042 Polk street, today and took $75 from him. With his confederate he jumped into a waiting automobile, and sped off.

Rotary Convention Concludes Sessions

EDINBURGH, Scotland, June 17.—The convention of the International Association of Rotary Clubs was concluded yesterday. British and American flags mingled in the pageant, the principal features of which were figures representing Britannia and the Statue of Liberty. The president of the association declared that the convention was the most successful held.

MAIL MESSENGER ROBBED.
BAXTER SPRINGS, Mo., June 17.—Masked men held up Guy Shields, armed mail messenger, here early today, took him half a mile west of town, put him out of his motor car, and escaped with five pouches of mail.

California Alpine Club Plans Outing

Next Sunday the California Alpine club will go to Cascade Canyon and Warm Springs. They plan to leave at 7:45 a. m. for Fairfax. They will walk via road and trail through Cascade Canyon to Warm Springs. After lunch they will return via White's Hill and Iron Spring to Fairfax, covering a distance of twelve miles in all.

ARMY THIEVES CAUGHT.
LEAVENWORTH, Kan., June 17.—With the arrest of nine men here army officers and federal operatives announced the breaking up of a ring alleged to be responsible for the theft of thousands of dollars' worth of army supplies from Fort Leavenworth.

St. Clement's Chapel Scene of Marriage

St. Clement's chapel was the setting for the marriage of Miss Edna Taber and Dr. Dexter Rankin Ball, Wednesday evening, one hundred and fifty guests having been bidden.

Rev. W. R. H. Hodgkin of St. Mark's Episcopal church officiated. A reception was later held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taber in Piedmont. The bride was crowned in the customary bridal crown of white satin and lace, with tulle wedding veil. Gerdemes, lilies of the valley and butterfly orchids were in the shower bouquet.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Aubrey Cagwin, who wore her own wedding gown of white satin. Miss Arville Ball, the maid of honor, was in pink georgette. John Ball was the best man for his brother. The reception was attended by only relatives and nearest friends.

Dr. Ball and his bride have gone on a motor trip and later will establish their home across the bay. The bride is a graduate of the University of California, and a member of the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. Dr. Ball also received his degree from the state university and is a Nu Sigma Nu fraternity man.

AT THE KENWOOD.
Mrs. Walter Norwood Baxter and her little daughter Roberta, of the Hotel Kenwood, are guests at the Kenwood in Pasadena while spending a few weeks in southern California. They will return north in July and spend some time on their ranch in the San Joaquin valley.

Mrs. Louis T. Hickey of Berkeley was hostess this afternoon at a bridge party for Miss Frances Redman, fiancée of Lloyd Vincent Roberts, the younger matrons and guests sharing her hospitality.

Mrs. George Friend will sail June 29 for Honolulu, and before her departure will be the motif for informal affairs. Mrs. Clarence L. Porter was a recent hostess for Mrs. Friend at her home in Thousand Oaks. Mrs. Martha Bissell is entertaining this afternoon for the young matron.

In St. Mark's Chantry at 5 o'clock this afternoon Miss Lily Zeus will become the bride of Gerald Whitaker, Rev. W. R. H. Hodgkin to officiate. About forty relatives and guests will be present. A wedding dinner will be served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Martha Zeus, in Martin avenue. Miss Zeus will be maid of honor and Otto L. Zeus will preside as best man. Both the bride-elect and her fiancée are from the southern part of the state. Whitaker is a member of the class of '20, University of California.

The Pacific Coast Woman's Press Association met at the attractive clubhouse of "The Outdoor Club" in Mill Valley for their annual picnic June 13. Following the basket luncheon an interesting program was enjoyed by all. Miss Mary Albrecht was in charge of the program of readings and music. Miss Lillian Stenmons has invited the members and guests of the association for a basket picnic at her home in Twenty-first street Monday, June 27.

TEA FOR MISS LILLIAN SUYDAM.
Miss Lillian Suydam, bride-elect, will be the guest of honor at an afternoon which Miss Alice Culver will give Saturday, June 26, at her home in Central avenue. Mrs. Welles Newlands entertained for Miss Suydam and Mrs. J. R. Christy, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert Christy, gave a bridge tea this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Grant came up from Fresno to attend the marriage of Miss Gladys Dodge and George Halsey Grant of Oakland Thursday evening. Mr. Grant serving as best man at his brother's marriage. Stewart Chandler came down from Castella for the wedding.

LEAVE FOR CASTLE CRAGS.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry East Miller and Miss Laura Miller have gone to their country place at Castle Craggs for the greater part of the season. Mrs. Frederick Sherman and her daughters, Edna and Ruth, and son, Clay Sherman, are at Elma Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hall Montgomery (Doris Peoples) are here from Pasadena, where they now make their home. They came north for the marriage of Miss Eunice Roth and Miss Sherman.

Mrs. Montgomery will be here for several weeks and will visit her own parents, the George Peoples, and those of her husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Montgomery, who have leased the A. J. Weeks home in La Loma avenue for the summer.

Woman Imprisoned for Killing Man

HAVANA, June 17.—Fifteen years imprisonment for enforcing with a pistol the unwritten law, and $5 fine for using the weapon without a license, was the sentence imposed in criminal court on Pura Delgado, convicted of killing Antonio Trillo, wealthy young business man.

The prisoner, a youthful cabaret performer, testified in her own defense that she confronted Trillo in "the other woman's house" and demanded that he marry her younger sister, whom she charged Trillo with betraying. When he refused, she declared, she shot him.

SHIPPING BOARD ELECTS.
WASHINGTON, June 17.—The new Shipping Board organized yesterday and elected T. W. O'Connor of Buffalo, N. Y., vice chairman, A. D. Lasker of Chicago, chairman, O'Connor, who is a former president of the International Longshoremen's Union, will have charge of the labor affairs of the board.

YOUTH KIDNAPS SELF AND PUTS RANSOM AT $250

CENTRALIA, Wash., June 17.—Walter Linney, eleven years old, kidnapped himself and fixed his ransom at $250, the police said they learned today.

The boy's grandparents, with whom he lives, reported that he was missing, and displayed a note, found in his room, stating that he would be returned if $250 was placed under the doormat. Later the police found young Linney, who, according to them, first told a story of being abducted in an automobile but later admitted that it was a drama and he was the sole actor.

What's Happening in the Motor World

Here is an item of good news for motorists who are planning to visit the Yosemite this summer. According to word from Foster Curry motorists will no longer be obliged to leave Camp Curry at 6 a. m. in order to make the outgoing control on the Oak Flat and Wawona roads by 6:20. A new order, which goes into effect immediately, has eliminated the 7 a. m. incoming control, thus giving the cars an additional hour, to gain an early start on their homeward journey. Before, those desiring to make a moderately early start were obliged to leave camp by 6 a. m. or else wait until 8 a. m. If the early hour was necessary they rushed through to the checking station unable to enjoy the last glimpse of the valley.

WOMAN CHARGES ATTACK MADE IN HER APARTMENT

Police Seek Man Living in the Same Building As Alleged Assailant.

No trace has been found of Joseph Marrenger, who is alleged to have robbed and attempted to assault Mrs. Mabel Rose in her apartment at 815 Grove street late yesterday.

Mrs. Rose swart out a warrant for her alleged attacker, charging him with assault and robbery.

Mrs. Rose was taking a bath and did not hear anyone enter her room. When she opened the door, she alleges that Marrenger struck her, then fled with a diamond ring and $5 when she started screaming.

According to the police, Marrenger resides in the house with his mother.

British Miners to Continue Strike

LONDON, June 17.—(By Associated Press.)—The ballot of the coal miners on the question of a strike settlement favors a continuation of the strike, it was officially announced this afternoon.

The result of the ballot, according to official announcement, was: For the acceptance of the mine owners' terms, 183,837; for rejection, 432,511.

All Boys Invited to Free Camp in Heart of Sierras

Can you imagine:

A large healthy camp in the heart of the Stanislaus national forest in the Sierra mountains?

Swimming holes already for you to dive in?

Well equipped out-door gymnasium?

All the fishing you want?

Scores of beautiful and interesting hikes, both on foot and on horse-back?

Three squares a day, and a clean tent to sleep in?

For two weeks and not costing you a cent?

It's pretty hard, but all of the boys of the Eastbay region 12 years old or more who take advantage of The TRIBUNE'S summer vacation offer, will be able to do more than imagine it—in fact they'll get the real thing.

The TRIBUNE has invited every boy who thinks he would like camp life to spend two weeks as its guest at the Oakland municipal camp and every day participate in just such a program as is outlined above.

When The TRIBUNE began making first plans for this boys' outing, it realized that a lot of the fellows in the Eastbay section would make a bee line to its building at Thirteenth and Franklin streets and apply for the two weeks' trip.

However, The TRIBUNE never imagined that there were so many real American boys in this section, for ever since the first announcement of the boys' camp was made, kiddies have kept the clerks in the vacation department busy over time filling out application blanks for the Summer Fun Factory.

There will be two periods of two weeks each when The TRIBUNE will be the host for all you fellows at the municipal camp. The first camp will open July 4 and last till the 15th and the second starts on August 1 and will continue until August 13. All of you boys who will not be able, for some reason or other to make the first trip, will have a chance to go on the second, providing you go down to the vacation department in The TRIBUNE building and tell them you want to be on deck for the big event. Come down the first thing tomorrow morning.

Don't keep putting it off, for while there is no limit to the number of boys who can come, The TRIBUNE wants to get an idea of how many are going to turn out.

Just come to the vacation department and say:

"What do I have to do to go to camp? I want to go."

And you'll get all the dope, and this summer will be one of the best you've ever spent.

How about it?

WOMAN KILLED FOR DEATH.

WINEBOHO, Tex., June 17.—John Milam, 38, was shot and killed and Guy Carlisle, 21, was wounded seriously Wednesday night. Mrs. Hiram Newcome is charged with having shot them and today gave a bond of $6000 for her appearance.

The United States has almost 23,000,000 miles of telephone wires.

To lessen the labor of testing the air pressure in an automobile tire a new gauge form part of the valve stem and is covered with a heavy glass dust cap that is transparent.

'CAN AT HOME' IS PLAN PROPOSED TO PREVENT WASTE

County Producers and Consumers Called to Conference by Association.

Alameda county producers and consumers have been called to a conference tonight in the Municipal Auditorium by the California Home Canners' Association. Among the speakers will be Cary W. Hartman, president of the California Bee Keepers' Association, Mrs. Ida M. Blochman, member of the Berkeley board of education, Carlos G. White, vice-president and attorney of the Home Canners' Association, C. J. Welch, president and general manager, and others.

"Can at Home" is the solution which will be presented for the saving from waste thousands of tons of fruit, berries and vegetables in Alameda county. A scheme has been perfected under which these goods may be marketed by the California Home Canners' Association which is maintaining offices in the Henshaw building.

WOULD PREVENT WASTE.

Leaders in the movement point out the large destruction of fruit and vegetables which are permitted to waste annually because of the canneries' refusal to buy and the producers' lack of effort to save it. Because the producer and consumer is alike affected by the failure of the

MAN AND WIFE ARE INVOLVED IN STRANGE MURDER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 17.—The first step in one of the strangest local murder trials on record was taken yesterday with the arraignment of Thomas Foran, 28, and Edith, 24, his wife, on a charge of murder in the first degree for the death of J. J. Wanner. The cases were continued until July 8.

The warrants were issued after Mrs. Foran in an alleged confession admitted that her story of the mysterious caller at her home Saturday was a myth, that the robbery of $20 from a tool chest that day was a fake and she did not see a face at the window Saturday night when her husband rushed into the street, armed with a revolver, to shoot down Wanner, a passer-by.

According to her purported confession, she said she committed the robbery herself.

STREET MOVEMENT.

Endorsement of Mark A. Lee, Alameda county farm adviser for six years, of P. W. Kilgusworth assistant state horticulturist, and many men and women prominently identified with the agricultural industry of the state is claimed by the California Home Canners' Association. More than 50 women in the Alameda Housewives' League yesterday gave support to the movement. The plan was presented earlier in the week before the State Housewives' League in executive session.

A campaign that will strike at the heart of the "canning trust" will be outlined tonight, according to preliminary announcements of those arranging the conference.

YOUNG TEDDY TO VISIT VALLEJO IN OCTOBER NEXT

Assistant Secretary of Navy to Have a Look At Big Pacific Base.

VALLEJO, June 17.—Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby will visit Mare Island the latter part of July, according to information brought back to Vallejo by Dr. J. J. Horan, who arrived home Wednesday night from Washington D. C. Dr. Horan states that Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt will also visit Mare Island in October.

Boy's Leg Fractured When Hit by Auto

ALAMEDA, June 17.—Philip Tait, 2333 Central avenue 16 years of age, suffered a fractured leg when hit by the automobile of Chas. Gardner, 2017 Central avenue at Central avenue and Grand street, last night.

SOCIETY WOMAN WED 21 YEARS, ASKS SEPARATION

Mrs. J. F. Moore Charges Her Husband With Extreme Cruelty.

Twenty-one years of wedded life has brought Dr. J. Franklin Moore, dentist, with offices in the First National Bank Building, and his wife, Mrs. Lillian B. Moore, well known society matron, into court. Moore is asking for a separation maintenance of $900 a month out of her husband's income, which she alleges is approximately $2000.

Schelling, nagging, meanness and silence are some of the allegations which his wife makes against Dr. Moore.

The dentist is charged with swearing at Mrs. Moore so loudly on a day in March last that he annoyed the neighbors. When he stayed at home at night he is accused of being disagreeable, particularly so to friends of his wife. Moore cites that the causes of his ill temper were due to Dr. Moore's own mistakes.

Alleged acts of extreme cruelty began 11 years ago but have become more frequent since June of last year, she says. Absence from home all night without explanation; telephone calls to designated places failing to locate him; week-end motor trips with men and women guests from which she was excluded; wild and reckless driving intended to frighten her from desiring to accompany him, are some of the acts of mental cruelty which are brought against Dr. Moore in the complaint for separate maintenance. "Vexed, insinuations" made in the presence of guests "which were sarcastic, unjust and embarrassing" are charged against the dentist.

Making of itemized accounts of all household expenditures after she had received money from her husband in small sums is also objected to by Mrs. Moore. She asserts that she has deprived herself of educational advantages and amusements because the arguments which followed were not worth the trouble. The Moores separated in May. There are no children.

SHOE DEALERS INSPECT PLANT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—California Retail Shoe Dealers' Association today inspected the shoe factory of Frank & Hyman. The concern manufactures ladies' shoes and a majority of the delegates who have been meeting in daily session at the St. Francis hotel, journeyed to the establishment and watched the process of manufacture from the rough leather to the completed product. The afternoon was spent in recreation and sight-seeing. The delegates pronounced the convention the most successful of the three so far held.

The convention, which has been in session three days at the Hotel St. Francis, closed last night with the election of officers and the selection of the next convention city. Al Katschinski, San Francisco shoe man, was re-elected president of the organization.

Other officers elected were: Max H. Sommer Jr., San Francisco, secretary-treasurer; Lou C. Brayton, Sacramento, first vice-president; and Charles McWilliams, Los Angeles, second vice-president. The new board of directors elected will include: Harry Lacey, Visalia; Frank Bush, Los Angeles; H. T. Thompson, Redding; A. H. Young, Los Angeles; and H. A. Ballard, San Francisco. Los Angeles was named as the next convention city. No other city was placed in nomination.

Speakers at the final session included William Dyer, Governor of the Twelfth Federal Reserve district, and James Stone of Boston, editor and publisher of the Shoe Retailer.

CUTICURA HEALS PIMPLES ON FACE

Were Small and Red. Burning Caused Loss of Sleep.

"My trouble began in the form of small, red pimples, which caused me much embarrassment as they were on my face. The pimples feasted and caused me to lose sleep by burning. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they afforded relief in about two weeks. When I had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment for three or four weeks I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss A. M. Brown, Hamilton, Washington.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment occasionally prevent pimples or other eruptions. They are a pleasure to use as is also Cuticura Talcum for performing the skin.

"Words fail to express my feeling to you for your wonderful treatment. It restored my health after I had been suffering for three months from pimples, cold and numb, and I could not move without crutches. Six physicians failed to help me. Finally a friend recommended Dr. Kwong Shew. I began his herb treatment in March of this year. Now I am able to return to my work and am stronger than ever before. If there is anyone who suffers the same, I beg him to consult this herb specialist."

San Francisco News

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Gordon Edwards, discoverer of the double salt solution of quinine, urea and hydrochloride as a local anesthetic and whose discovery was employed extensively during the world war, is in San Francisco, registered at the Fairmont hotel. Edwards' story is one of hardship and disappointment finally overcome by courage and perseverance. At first he was scoffed at by surgeons and physicians, but when, during the war, he put his discovery to practical use on the battlefronts of Europe, he finally, toward the end of the war, attracted the attention of Dr. Alexander Lambert, head of the Red Cross in Paris, who offered to back him financially. He returned to America in August, 1918, shell shocked and otherwise broken in health. He was ill in New York for two years and has come to San Francisco to rest before taking up his struggle again.

Mrs. Leona Caldwell, 18-year-old bride of Roy Caldwell, an oil worker at Fillmore, is under arrest here following a trip to this city from Ventura in her husband's automobile. Dr. Caldwell's complaint his wife was arrested on a larceny charge based on the alleged theft of the car. The bride told the police that she had left her husband after their first quarrel, last Monday night, when her husband, she declares, told her to "get out."

Preliminary arrangements are under way to make the Fourth of July parade an important event in the local history of such celebrations. The observance committee held a meeting in the city hall yesterday, at which Supervisor Charles A. Nelson presided.

Jose Perez is being held under $500 bond to answer to the federal grand jury following his appearance yesterday before United States Commissioner Francis Krull. Perez, acquitted of violating the state poison law, was re-arrested later on a charge of violating the Mann act. He is said to have transported Mrs. Elena Vidal Barrientos from Texas.

The survey committee of the San Francisco Bar Association is taking steps to arrange for the employment of a "statutes clerk," whose duty it shall be to prepare a record of the work done by the courts, tabulate and post them each month in the association's office. A constitutional amendment which the association will consider Monday night provides for the new clerk.

It has been arranged to hold weekly meetings for the consideration of the proposed ordinance before the commercial development, public welfare and streets committees of the board of supervisors. The first meeting was held yesterday. The next will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. The proposed ordinance will divide the city into zones, certain types of buildings to be confined to certain zones.

WILL SAFEGUARD BAGGAGE.
The safeguarding of the baggage of passengers from Oakland Pier to the Ferry Building, the Southern Pacific company will put into effect June 26 a plan for checking each baggage. Heretofore the baggage of Southern Pacific passengers has been transferred across the bay by Red Cap porters and distributed in the main gateway of the Ferry building, no checks being issued.

MONTANA POPULATION MIXED.
WASHINGTON, June 17.—Montana, with a total population in 1920 of 548,889, had 534,260 whites, 1658 negroes, 1556 Indians, 872 Chinese, 1074 Japanese and 69 Filipinos, Koreans, Hindus and Malays. The foreign born white population of the state in 1920 was 33,629, or 7.1 per cent of the total population, as against 31,644, or 24.4 per cent in 1910.

Valuable Bulldogs Are Found Poisoned

Mrs. I. W. Stege, 1024 Windsor avenue, reported to the police last night that two of her prize bulldogs were found dead in their kennels shortly after she fed them. The food which she brought out for the dogs to eat was not touched by the animals. The dogs were valued at $1000 apiece. The case was investigated by Police Inspectors Harry Orbell and William Louch. The stomachs of the animals will be examined to determine what kind of poison was given to the animals.

CREDIT MEN HEAR DISCUSSIONS ON INQUIRY METHODS

Convention Will Close Tomorrow With Business and Lunch At Beach.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—With a conference on "The Credit Office and Merchandising Policies," led by A. R. Macdon, credit manager of the Oakland store of Ross Brothers, to open the convention today, the state conference of retail credit men and credit reporting agencies opened its second day today in the assembly hall of the Em-porium.

A Scientific Measurement of Retail Credit was the subject of the second conference of the morning session, under the leadership of J. L. Bowden, credit manager of the Isaac Upham Company of San Francisco, and the morning session concluded with an address on "The Scientific Relationship Between Sales and Book Balances," by Earl D. Pillsbury of the San Francisco Credit Research Club.

This afternoon conference were held on "The Distribution of Credit in the Community," "The Relation of Industrial Progress and Policy to Retail Credit," "The Handling of the Direct Inquiry," and "The Credit Reporting Bureau in a Community."

The conference comes to a close with a business session tomorrow morning and an afternoon luncheon at a beach resort.

Last evening a session of the convention devoted to improving the state association was held, at which the following committees were appointed:

State organization—George Kramer, Jr., San Francisco; W. W. Veir, Sacramento; E. H. Purth, Oakland; R. L. Conway, Santa Barbara; E. J. Dillard, San Francisco; E. M. Hitchcock, Pasadena; W. J. Hawkins, Long Beach; A. T. Jennings, Sacramento; and J. W. Lewis, Los Angeles.

Resolutions—H. L. Rhodes, L. J. Allen, Fresno; S. C. Betterman, Oakland; S. E. Edgerton, Los Angeles; M. Hart Dastel, San Francisco; R. G. Voight, Los Angeles; A. Alenburgh, Los Angeles; A. R. Macdon, Oakland; and W. W. Miller, Los Angeles.

By-laws—W. J. Carr, San Francisco; W. H. Brimer, Los Angeles; E. E. Crawford, Oakland; William Leewi, San Francisco; and John J. Powers, Stockton.

Railways Stagger Under Operating Costs: Sproule

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—That the increase in labor costs to the railroads between 1916 and the time they were turned back to private ownership after the war almost equals the entire sum paid for operating expenses in 1916, was the statement of President William Sproule of the Southern Pacific Company in his address today before the national convention of credit men.

In these times the transportation agencies may be said to be on the way toward convalescing after a burning and exhausting war fever," said Sproule.

The malady began January 1, 1917, when the Adamson law took effect on American railroads, placing their cost for wages on an arbitrary basis of eight hours a day. By this one step the labor costs were increased $271,000,000 for the year 1917, including only those railroads that had a gross earning of $1,000,000 or more in the year.

In 1918 the labor costs were increased $374,000,000. In 1919 increased wages again added to the labor cost by $29,000,000.

In 1920 railroad wages were once more increased by $355,000,000, making the increase during the four years in labor cost the sum of $2,230,000,000 above 1916. This increase almost equals the amount the railroads paid for all their operating expenses in 1916. Comparing again 1916 with 1920 the cost of wages, fuel and other expenses rose so that the total increase in operating expenses was $3,411,000,000 while the revenues taken in increased but $2,527,000,000 leaving the railroads $884,000,000 to the bad.

"But their taxes ran on and they had to pay $141,000,000 in 1920 over 1916, so that in fact they were $73,000,000 or almost a billion dollars worse off at the end. What was the result, the railroads earned less than 72 per cent more than in 1916 but their operating expenses were nearly 142 per cent more."

Sproule, referring to the priority system of handling the railroads during the war, said that had they been permitted to operate in an orderly manner they could have prevented the congestion which occurred.

"It was not a breakdown of the roads," he continued, "it was a congestion in commercial facilities, a natural breakdown of an ill advised scheme of priority."

AUTO COMPETITION.

The competition of automobiles was blamed for some of the deficit by Sproule, who said "Rates within the state are controlled by each of those states and of course, so are the rates of the railroads. They pay, but the state highways built by state and largely out of the taxes

WILL DISPOSING OF $15,000,000 FORGERY, CLAIM

Blood Relatives of J. A. Murray Aligned Against the Widow in Suit.

SALINAS, June 17.—Direct charges of forgery have been hurled at the last will and testament of James A. Murray by Daniel A. Ryan, a San Francisco attorney who represents James A. Murray, a brother, who also is a partner in the $15,000,000 will contest before Judge J. A. Bardin, here. Murray, a prominent California and Montana mining man, died last month in Montana. Ryan declared that he would have no trouble in proving that the will was not legal.

"We base our conclusions on the opinion of many who for years dealt with the signature of James A. Murray, and at least one handwriting expert," said Ryan. "We have been comparing signatures for many years and those who knew the Murray signature best pronounce the will signature a forgery."

"While we will try to have the case transferred to Montana courts, we are prepared to proceed with the suit under the original contest filed against the case June 8," he continued. "The complaint brought by Agnes C. Boyle and Mrs. Mary Flynn, niece and daughter of the late James A. Murray, charges that the will as filed in Salinas is not the will of Murray."

WIDOW'S ANSWER AWAITED.

The widow's answer is expected for two months. Judge Bardin at Salinas, who leaves shortly on his vacation, continued the contest to August. The next step will be the filing of the answer by Mrs. Mary Hammond Murray, the widow. Mrs. Murray was granted an income of $5000 a month from the estate last Saturday by Judge Bardin.

The contest was started by the widow, who is in the city to represent the interests of the Pennsylvania branch of the Murray family. Joseph Murray of Kila, Ill., a nephew, has also been here for several days and joined the forces of James A. Murray's brother, Marcus Murray, Butte attorney; May Murray, a sister, who was in charge of the estate in New York; and Seattle and the Doyles and Flynns.

There was a conference yesterday of attorneys with blood relatives who are contesting the will. Afterward it was announced that the will was not to be contested. The will was not to be contested. The will was not to be contested.

OAKLAND GIRL, JUNGLE QUEEN, MAY LOSE CROWN

Divorced Husband Sues to Recover Million Acres of Brazil Land.

Court action taken by the attorney of John H. Douglass, alias Bruce Vincent Douglass, to have an interlocutory decree of divorce granted his wife, Mrs. Bruce Vincent Douglass, former Oakland beauty shop girl, and an award of 1,400,000 acres of jungle land in the heart of unexplored Brazil made in her favor by Superior Judge A. F. St. Sure, on April 5, 1921, set aside, was continued until September 2 today, by Judge St. Sure, when attorneys for both Douglass and his divorced wife asked for a continuance.

In addition, Henry C. Reynolds, representing Mrs. Douglass, told the court he was awaiting valuable evidence from the Brazilian government, which would not arrive in Oakland until the early part of September.

Control and ownership of the jungle lands, on the Arinos river—"Theodore Roosevelt's" "River of Doubt"—which may be worth $15,000,000, was the subject of the case, which was continued upon Mrs. Douglass by Judge St. Sure's divorce.

In filing her divorce complaint, Mrs. Douglass related how she married Douglass in New York April 2, 1920, and how they were later hounded from city to city and across the continent and back again by detectives, police and government agents, until her husband was finally apprehended in New York, where they were living in luxury.

OFFICERS ALWAYS ON HIS TRAIL.

Mrs. Douglass, in testifying during the suit for divorce, said that her husband was a war hero and government parole, which accounted for the continual surveillance of government officials. While residing in Oakland, Mrs. Douglass told the court he occasionally fled to other California towns, reappearing and disappearing mysteriously.

Captured, and charged with forgery, checks, aggregating a total of $200,000, Mrs. Douglass said, she was sentenced to serve one year and eight months in Sing Sing prison. Oakland authorities have asked that the New York police hold Douglass in his released condition. Sing Sing, he is wanted in Oakland for forgery, under the name of John Newell.

ASKS RIGHTS PROTECTED.

With information of the divorce decree and land award received Douglass in the eastern prison, he immediately dispatched a letter to Judge St. Sure, asking that his right to be released be protected. He stated that he would reopen the case through his attorneys, although he would still be confined in prison.

He was represented in court today by Attorney Henry C. Reynolds, L. H. Shapiro and Robert Whitson of San Francisco, while Mrs. Douglass was represented by Henry C. Reynolds. Attorneys for Douglass claim Judge St. Sure had no jurisdiction over private property in Brazil.

Woman Testifies She Saw Judge Kill Man

CLEVELAND, June 17.—Testifying for the defense today in the trial of former Judge William H. McGannon, Miss Mary Healey started the court and spectators when she said:

"I saw Judge McGannon shoot Harold Kary."

The state is seeking to prove that McGannon swore falsely when he said he was not present when Kary was shot and killed on the night of May 7, 1920.

Man Gets Judgment Against Draft Board

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—A jury in Judge Dietrich's court awarded Ray B. Wheeler of this city a judgment of $750 against his local draft board, on the ground that he had been wrongfully accused of being a slacker. The court instructed the jurors to give him the verdict, but allowed them to decide the amount of damages Wheeler had suffered.

BUSINESS MEN, AT DINNER, PLAN PRODUCTS SHOW

Chamber of Commerce, Farm Adviser and Others to Help Big Project.

HAYWARD, June 17.—Sixty-five business men of Hayward and San Leandro attended the "Steak dinner" of the Hayward Chamber of Commerce and the Eden Township Farm Products Show at the White Lunch ranch here last evening.

The dinner was held in the open beside an artificial lake constructed on the grounds for the purpose of boating. Among the speakers of the evening were Mayor Arthur Master of Hayward, A. S. Weaver, president of the State Bank of San Leandro, Farm Advisor Marcus Lee V. W. White and Dr. W. B. McCord. Many other guests were called upon and responded with assurances of their hearty cooperation in all the movements for the good of Eden township sponsored by the Hayward organizations. A resolution of support with regard to the opening night at the White Lunch ranch, which is to be an Eden Township Night, July 7, was formally carried.

There will be a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors at the headquarters on Castro street this afternoon. Tonight the business meeting of the Farm Products Association will be held at the same place.

Jury Blames Quarry for Autoist's Death

The coroner's jury yesterday attributed the cause of the death of Earl S. Cunningham to the alleged failure of the Bates and Borland quarry to erect proper road fences around their property. On Saturday night Cunningham drove his car over the bank and plunged about fifty feet into the quarry. He was dead when removed from the wreckage.

The verdict heads in part:

"The road at this quarry is not fenced or marked or indicated in any way and is most dangerous to automobile traffic. Negligence of the owners of the property to properly safeguard the premises is the cause of the accident, as Cunningham mistook the dump for the roadway."

This quarry is located in the foothills on Park boulevard.

The jury, in the case of Goveia and son, John Goveia, who were both killed on Saturday afternoon when their machine was struck by a Southern Pacific train at Twenty-ninth avenue, recommended that a warning signal be placed at the crossing.

Decision Awaited in $70,000 Damage Suit
MARTINEZ, June 17.—Trial of the $70,000 damage suit instituted by Joseph Slye, San Francisco attorney, against W. S. Withers, will not be resumed until Superior Judge A. H. McKenzie has ruled on a point submitted yesterday afternoon by attorneys for the latter. Slye claims his employee was ordered from a motorcycle by Withers, who was on the Pecosan Hill, possession of which he claimed at the time, his cattle corralled and hay on the property confiscated. Withers' plea of yesterday was that Slye was on his property only as a licensee and at the sufferance of the defendant. If Judge McKenzie should rule adversely to Withers' claim the trial will be resumed.

Cities Given Right to Enact Dry Laws
SACRAMENTO, June 17.—Cities of California have the legal right to pass ordinances to enforce the federal prohibition amendment, the Third District Court of Appeals decided today in denying the application of Caesar Volpi of Stockton for a writ of habeas corpus in connection with his conviction for violating the prohibition ordinance of that city. Volpi's attorneys attacked the Stockton ordinance on the grounds that "no power is conferred upon the municipalities to enact legislation for the enforcement of the prohibition amendment, and any special penal ordinance by municipalities upon the subject of prohibition or its enforcement is void and in violation of said section of the constitution," and also that the ordinance conflicts with the Volstead act.

STOCKTON, June 17.—Frank Giannelli saw the police booze raiders coming. He pulled a string, greeted them with a satisfied smile and told them to go ahead and investigate. They did and found a bottle of liquor reposing on a pile of bricks in the basement. Giannelli's grin faded. He believed he had a trapdoor so he arranged that a simple haul at the cord would send the bottle crashing down against the bricks and the evidence would be lost at once. This time the receipt didn't break. He paid a fine of $400, but was game enough to joke about his pet scheme. On February 16 he was fined $200 for selling liquor.

WORLD FAMOUS MEN TO CONFER ON BRIDGE PLAN

Bay Cities to Have Advice of Best Bridge Engineer and Tunnel Expert.

The announcement that Ralph Modjeski, one of the leading bridge engineers of the world, is to come to San Francisco to make a study of the possibilities of the construction of a bridge across San Francisco bay, in collaboration with J. V. P. Davies, another leading bridge engineer, furnished today's development in the Bridge-the-Bay movement, undertaken by the Motor Car Dealers' Association of San Francisco.

This followed the unanimous endorsement of the movement of the Progressive Business Club of San Francisco, at its "Bridge Day" luncheon yesterday, and the appointment of a committee by the Alameda County Board of Supervisors to work with similar committees from San Francisco, and the various bay cities in making plans for the project.

BEST ADVICE OBTAINABLE.
"Modjeski's coming, together with that of J. V. P. Davies, will give the bay region the combined advice of the best bridge engineer and the best tunnel expert in America. Their preliminary survey of the problem of providing rapid transit across San Francisco bay will give the most valuable guide as to procedure in the matter that money can buy. A partial record of Modjeski's work shows that he has been in direct charge or acted in a consulting capacity on more than a hundred million dollars' worth of bridge work in America," declared the statement of the Motor Car Dealers' Association, issued last night.

"The exact date of Modjeski's arrival has not been set, but it is probable that he will be in San Francisco during a portion, at least, of the stay of J. V. P. Davies, to permit a personal conference between the two great engineers on every phase of the project."

Among the more important works designed and executed by Modjeski are the following:

Rock Island bridge, over Mississippi river, at Rock Island, double track railway, approximate cost $5,000,000.

Vancouver-Portland bridges, over the Columbia and Willamette rivers, between Vancouver, Washington, and Portland, Oregon. Double track railway, $4,000,000.

Cherry street bridge, for the city of Toledo. Concrete arches for highway traffic, $1,500,000.

Cello bridge, over the Columbia river, near Celilo, Washington. Single track railway, $1,000,000.

Memphis bridge, over the Mississippi river at Memphis. Double track railway and highway, $3,500,000.

Cincinnati bridge, over the Ohio river at Cincinnati. O. Double track railway bridge, $3,500,000. Now under construction.

Heiress Avoids Lavish Wedding And Selfishness

Packers' Daughter Believes
Happiness Lies in Starting
On "Economic Basis."

By United Press
LEAST WIRE TO TRIBUNE
CHICAGO, June 17.—The home of the world's richest bride was banked today with simple little presents from cripples she had befriended.

Miss Lolita Armour, daughter of J. Ogden Armour, multi-millionaire packer, will be married tomorrow to John J. Mitchell, Jr.

Miss Armour, herself once a cripple and saved by an operation, has devoted her life to rehabilitating others.

Although she can afford the most luxurious wedding money could provide, the ceremony is to be very simple.

"Extravagance is a sin," she said. "I want my wedding to be a lucky one, therefore I will not start out by wasting."

Miss Armour's wedding gown is a simple little thing of white velvet and quite inexpensive. She is not going to wear any jewels at the ceremony.

Her trousseau is made up mostly of "leftovers."

"Starting on an economical basis, man and woman have a better chance," she said.

"If I were to lavish a small fortune on my trousseau and gown memory would bring only regrets to me later on."

"It would be only selfishness and I don't believe selfish people are ever happy—or lucky."

After the wedding, there will be a short honeymoon and then the couple will return to "keep house."

PERFUME THIEF MAY BE WOMAN, SHERIFF THINKS

Notes and Scented Handkerchief
Sent to Sheriff to Give Him "Cue."

SAN JOSE, June 17.—Sheriff Geo. W. Lyle today had a new clue on his new famous "perfume burglar," who, after stealing $40 worth of sweet perfumes in a Los Gatos store last Saturday night, later sent Lyle a perfume-laden handkerchief to "put him on the scent" and still later addressed a second letter warning that the writer was preparing for new jobs.

He declared this morning that he has received information which leads him to believe that the mysterious "perfume burglar" is a woman.

The sheriff's information came through another anonymous letter addressed yesterday afternoon, addressed from this city and this time in the handwriting of a woman. His previous letters have been typewritten in her hand.

For the first time Lyle held the contents of the mystery note a secret. The letter, he admitted, gives him "valuable information" concerning a young woman, apparently mentally deranged, who has been seen in the vicinity of Los Gatos, loitering about several stores there with a handbag in her hand.

"This woman," Lyle declared today, "has been noticed particularly by several parties. She constantly keeps smelling her handkerchief and there is some mystery as to what she has in the handbag which she carries."

The sheriff expressed his belief that the woman writing the letter which he received today was "reliable."

"I'm inclined to think that a practical joker is at work," he states, "but, nevertheless, it is possible that this woman, if she is really the perfume burglar, may have written the notes. It is a peculiar case."

Differing Diagnoses of Cops Free Driver

Because of conflicting testimony given by police, Judge Mortimer Smith this morning dismissed a case against Eugene Bastida, who was charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Bastida was arrested on May 8 by Officer D. A. Greene at Twenty-third and Grove streets.

On May 24, when the preliminary examination was called, three policemen testified that Bastida was not under the influence and two testified that he was drunk.

After hearing the officers' testimony, Chief of Police Panton Thompson had the prosecuting attorney ask that the case be continued until today that the police department might seek new witnesses.

SHOT FORMER WIFE, CHARLES KEMMERER, Wyo., June 17.—After he is alleged to have shot his former wife, Alfred P. Roberts 56 years old, former member of the state legislature, was found dead in the former wife's home here today.

He was shot through the temple Mrs. Roberts was expected to recover.

Citizens Want No-Man's Land For Park Site

Just what the city intends to do with a strip of land at Rio Vista and Claremont avenues that was formerly a street, is much of a problem around the city hall.

Rio Vista street, now deceased, was formerly a beautifully asphalted incline of about 35 degrees. It was made use of by motor demonstrators, speed maniacs who came down it and small children who used it for a slide.

At the request of the property owners it was closed—almost. The city removed the pavement from the surface, rendering the street impassable for motors and sleds.

Now it stands barren and an eyesore to the community. Several people threatened to start out to claim it. A letter signed by several of the property owners was read today before the council advising the city what to do in order to prevent the deceased street becoming the property of some individual.

They propose that the city council appropriate a sum of money with which to plant trees on the ground and reclaim it a public park.

It is not more than five hundred feet long and not more than five feet wide. It has been suggested that a waiting list be set up and that the families of the district who want to spend a Sunday in the forest—after it grows—may take turns about.

Preventive Care of Teeth to Be Topic

The care of children's teeth will be the chief topic of discussion at the annual meeting of the California State Dental Association to be held in San Francisco this month at the Fairmont hotel.

Beginning June 17 there will be a six-day session, during which preventive dentistry will be advanced as the most progressive method in minimizing children's diseases.

Dr. Charles A. Furrow of Tulsa, Okla., and Dr. E. T. Smith of Minneapolis are also announced to take part in this phase of the convention's program.

Prominent among the Oakland dentists who will participate in the session are Dr. J. D. Petray and T. J. Sweet.

Over five hundred dentists are expected to be in San Francisco during this meeting and elaborate preparations are being made for their reception on the part of the local committee.

$33,546 Saved During Year by Fire Bureau

Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead in a statement to F. J. Morse, commissioner of public health and safety, pointed out where $33,546 was saved during the year by the department being motorized.

For the fiscal year of 1920-21 the fire department saved $114,111, but this sum was cut to $169,597 by the city council. The difference was saved, the chief points out in his report, in maintenance, $600, and in salaries $2,546.

Within two years the new equipment will have paid for itself.

War Predicted if Arming Continues

LONDON, June 17.—The solemn warning that war will be inevitable unless the arming of nations ceases was sounded today by Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary.

John Davidson in open debate in the House of Commons this afternoon on the forthcoming British imperial conference.

LABOR DELEGATES REJECT PERSONAL LABEL INSPECTION

Exclusion of All Japanese Is Demand of American Federation.

DENVER, June 17.—Efforts to secure all men delegates who did not wear a union label on all articles of wearing apparel was defeated by an overwhelming vote today in the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

The debate on the proposal was long and stormy. Members of the union label committee contended that such a resolution could not be enforced as the federation was a voluntary organization.

Delegates of the Tailors' Union argued for a strike-room examination where delegates would be inspected before they could enter the convention hall.

Charles E. Nelson secretary of the Central Labor Union of Kansas, Mo., used label inspection declaring that labor leaders themselves did not pay sufficient attention to the label movement.

"If non-union garments were removed from delegates there would not be enough barrels in town to clothe them in decency," John J. Manning, secretary of the Union Label League, declared in opposing label inspection.

DECLARED IMPRACTICAL.
President Sweeney of the Tailors' Union declared label inspection "impractical and opposed to fundamental rights of man to do as he chooses."

The resolution was declared by Benjamin Schlessinger, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers as a discrimination against the women workers because it did not demand labels on the garments of women delegates.

President Gompers took the floor for personal objection to certain terms of the report of the committee on labels, his action resulting in referring it back for revision.

Gompers objected to a comparison of rights of man to do as he chooses with the rights of man to buy non-union goods. The report said such a union man commits the "greater crime."

COULAGE IS DENIED.
"I cannot agree in saying and in declaring for this convention that the strike-breaker who enters a 'strike' shop as having any sort of courage," Gompers said. "I don't want an union to give the American Federation of Labor in convention as saying the strike-breaker has any sort of courage."

In another part of the report is the statement in sense that the union labor men compared with a strike-breaker is to be compared with a highwayman or a pickpocket. I cannot induce myself to express such extravagant language, I don't want the enemies of organized labor to quote this convention as saying the strike-breaker is a hero.

The delegates by resolution pledged themselves to patronize only stores displaying the union shop cards, to deliver through union drivers and to buy only tobacco which bears the union label.

FOR JAPANESE EXCLUSION.
Demand that Congress take action to protect the nation's interest against the "growing menace of Japanese immigration and colonization," is made in a resolution submitted today to the convention.

The declaration, submitted by M. McGuire of the San Francisco Labor Council, has the approval of the Japanese Exclusion League of California, Los Angeles Anti-Asian Association, and the Japanese Exclusion League of Washington.

Girl Sleeps in Cell With Suspect in Kaber Murder

(The Cleveland Press had Miss Lettice B. Pollock sentenced to one night in jail on a trumped up assault and battery charge in order to interview the principals in the Kaber murder mystery. Four women are under first degree murder indictments. They have been held uncommunicado. Miss Pollock slept in the cell with Mrs. Calavito, one of the women held. The United Press is using Miss Pollock's story by arrangement with the Cleveland Press.)

CLEVELAND, O., June 17.—I spent last night in the county jail with Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber and her daughter, Marian Mcardle.

I slept in the same cell with Mrs. Emma Calavito.

These women are charged with first degree murder in the death of Daniel F. Kaber, I talked with them as one prisoner to another.

Mrs. Calavito slept on a cot not two feet from mine. She is charged with being the woman who furnished Mrs. Kaber with poison, administered to Kaber before he was murdered. She also is charged with having hired the two assassins who stabbed Kaber to death.

In the early evening, we sat playing cards.

After the card game, we discussed religion until 9 o'clock, when cells are locked for the night and the keys turned on me and the woman who was my roommate.

Mrs. Calavito lay with her face Mrs. Calavito was called down turned upward. Often she turned and moaned. Once I heard her say, "Oh, my God!"

HARD WOMAN MOAN.
stairs, but came back in a few minutes.

"What was the matter?" I asked.

"They have some woman here to identify me," she told me. "She's no good, but once people think they have you, they keep tormenting you. It's awful and I always tried to be good to everybody."

"How did you get into this Kaber affair?" I asked.

"Oh, I knew a man who knew Mrs. Kaber and I met her through him."

"One night she came to my house with another man and they planned the murder. She told me she was going to do it and I told her not to. I never gave her any poison. Poison is easy to get these days. She must have bought it herself."

"Were you at her house the night of the murder?" I asked.

Labor leaders declare that the resolution is the most drastic measure on the Japanese question ever considered by organized labor. It calls for:

Absolute exclusion for future of all Japanese immigration, not only male but female and not only laborers skilled and unskilled but farmers and men of small trades and professions as recommended by Theodore Roosevelt. Permission of temporary residence only for tourists, students, artists, commercial men, teachers and others.

GIRL PLAYS PIANO.
Such exclusion to be enforced by United States officials under United States laws and regulations as done with immigration admitted, or excluded from all other countries and not as at present under an arrangement whereby control and regulation is surrendered by us to Japan.

BERKELEY MUST PRUNE BUDGET FOR DOLLAR TAX

Commissioner Bartlett's Report Says $164,431 Must Be Cut From Expense.

BERKELEY, June 17.—Budgets of the various municipal departments must be pruned in the sum of $164,431 if the dollar tax limit is to be retained in Berkeley next year, says the report of Councilman Carl T. Bartlett, commissioner of finance and revenue, presented to the city council this morning.

Bartlett showed a total of $723,936 available from various sources for the coming year, a sum, he stated approximately $50,000 more than last year.

Estimates for the various departments, according to his report, amount to $907,511, leaving a deficit in funds of $184,431.

Under the city charter to a one dollar rate on each $100 of assessed valuation, while school libraries and other special taxes are levied in addition to this sum, the tax rate for the last fiscal year totaled $1.54.

Retrenchment in various departments was urged by Councilman Bartlett, who declared that big savings could be effected this year in various lines of city activities. Municipal collection of garbage was advocated as one of the necessities of the coming year.

Argument On Alimony

Superior Judge A. N. St. Sure ruled against the argument of the attorney for Chief of Police Burton Becker for Edmund, who contended that Becker did not have to pay alimony because, when the decree was entered, alimony was not specified and that the matter was therefore outside the jurisdiction of the court.

The case was then continued for a week.

Becker, through his attorney, Girard A. Richardson, contended that after the final decree had been entered with alimony for no definite period provided, that Judge St. Sure lost jurisdiction.

NEW NAVAL PLANS.

While no definite decision has been reached by the administration as to the future tactical disposition of the naval forces, the discussion of the question has gone so far that the views of the General Board of the Navy has been made known. The matter is now in that stage where the sentiment of the political members of the government and the politicians outside the government, as well as of the people of the Atlantic Coast naval ports, is being felt out.

The General Board has let it be understood that it recommends and is prepared to urge reorganization of the naval forces so as to bring about the creation of a single "major fleet" based permanently in the Pacific. This has placed the question in sharp outline before the Easterners and the reactions against the suggestion are now being observed. There will be selfish interests that are more concerned in local commercial benefit and social diversion than effective national defense found in opposition. That was to be expected. It was also to be expected that these interests would exert pressure on their representatives of Congress and in the government to prevent the new defense plans from being put into effect.

This is a phase of human frailty that must always be taken into account. It always works for delay in proposed changes in the government's machinery and very often actually prevents changes from being made. A glimpse of the obstructionists is given in a special despatch from Washington printed in the New York Times of June 5, from which the following extract is quoted.

"It is indicated that, whatever plan is adopted by the Secretary of the Navy, the Atlantic Fleet will not be denuded of capital ships. Aside from the opposition that the stripping of the Atlantic of fighting vessels would arouse, the naval administration is said to be convinced that it would be poor policy to leave the eastern seaboard without protection even in time of peace. For one thing, the withdrawal of practically the entire fighting force of the navy from the Atlantic would mean the practical disuse of the large navy yards and other shore stations with their valuable dry docks and repair plants. It would also throw a tremendous burden on the Pacific coast stations."

"The proposal to consolidate the fleet in the Pacific is based on the belief of a very influential school of opinion in naval circles that a serious tactical error was committed when the naval forces were divided by Secretary Daniels into two practically equal bodies. Officers argue that the soundness of the policy of a united fleet was proved by the experiences of the World War, when Great Britain compelled the German forces to remain under cover. If the British fleet had been broken up into numerous subdivisions, they assert, the Germans might have hoped to engage these smaller units with some chance of success, but as long as the huge fighting machine was kept intact, the German fleet remained helplessly bottled up in the Kiel Canal."

There are mentioned two points to the argument against the General Board's plan to have one "major fleet" and that with its base permanently in the Pacific. One is that the naval stations on the Atlantic would be deprived of some of their customary work. The other is that the Atlantic coast also needs protection. Then in the second paragraph is the view, incorrect, we believe, that Secretary Daniels erred when he divided the fleet and placed half of it in the Pacific. This view is apt to be translated later into a contention that the undivided fleet should be retained in the Atlantic instead of the Pacific.

Then there will be other arguments against the Pacific fleet, such as the fictitious one already voiced that the assignment of a powerful fleet in this ocean might be interpreted as a menacing gesture against Japan, an argument made in the name of pacifism.

Indifference to the well-schooled intrigue of the East coast will not advance the interest of national defense nor the security of the Pacific coast line. Indifference permitted obstruction of the plan to establish a naval base on San Francisco Bay; it will, if continued, endanger the hope that a Pacific Fleet will be permanently assigned to the Pacific. Strange as it is that there is no cooperation among the Pacific Coast delegations in Congress to keep the truth and the facts before the public mind and Congress, it will be stranger still if the Pacific Coast States do not awake now to the necessity of protecting their interests.

The problem of Pacific defense is a problem of national defense. It should be approached on broad grounds. Eastern efforts to preserve local and selfish advantages to the harm of the Pacific should be opposed in time; not after it is too late for effective work.

DIGNITY NOT IN JEOPARDY.

Article 27 of the Mexican Constitution of 1917—the Carranza document of Querataro—being confiscatory of American and other foreign vested interests acquired prior to the effective promulgation of that constitution, is absolutely unacceptable to the United States. It authorizes the seizure of property that had passed into American hands in accordance with existing laws prior to its enactment.

So long as this provision of the constitution is in effect as written, there cannot properly or safely be any dealings between the government or the peoples of the two republics. The contention, therefore, of the United States government that modification of this intolerable law be guaranteed before the government of Mexico is officially recognized is basically sound and just.

Being so, President Obregon should be able at once to see that it does not offend the dignity of his office nor the dignity of the Mexican people. In this connection the United States is speaking for all the civilized powers. The principle raised is vital in international intercourse. President Obregon and his government would gain in dignity and respect if they should take a forthright course, putting evasion and manana behind them.

A COMMENDABLE COURSE.

Superior Judge Martin, a former Mayor of Tulsa, Oklahoma, delivered himself of a judicial opinion when a mob of citizens of that city let their blood and fire lust go unrestrained and destroyed the homes of some 5000 negro citizens. Said he:

"Tulsa can only redeem herself from the country-wide shame and humiliation into which she is today plunged by complete restitution and rehabilitation of the destroyed black belt. The rest of the United States must know that the real citizenship of Tulsa weeps at this unspeakable crime and will make good the damage, so far as it can be done, to the last penny."

And it is gratifying to record that there is a large proportion of the citizens of Tulsa whose sentiments coincide with those of Judge Martin. They have appointed the plain-speaking jurist chairman of a committee to carry out the righteous purpose of redemption which he revealed to Tulsa's better spirits. If the committee succeeds, as we have no doubt it will, Tulsa will have recovered its privilege to be proud.

It is well that this self-imposed task has been undertaken. It will have a cleansing effect, restoring the people to soberness and clear vision. Every community that permits itself to commit so sorry a crime should seek a way of expiation and wear its sackcloth and ashes awhile. Then in the face of the next provocation it will think.

Discussion is growing of the increasing number of fatalities in the streets. The largest percentage of these, of course, are due to automobiles and auto-trucks. The question is being studied of street congestion caused by auto-traffic. Before the days of the automobile a comparatively small number of vehicles traversed the streets. It will be found, almost to a certainty, that very many vehicles responsible for the congestion now have no valid excuse for being abroad. The thing will be to meet this condition—to detect and head off the motorist who goes into busy centers without a valid reason for doing so.

A man who took to the tall timber—a lumber-jack—has beaten a group of college professors in an intelligence test. Mr. Edson doubtless would put him first on the list as available applicants for a position.

One of the factors of the house shortage may be the house shortage.

WHEAT.

A spring wheat crop 45,000,000 bushels larger than last year's, which now is forecast by the Department of Agriculture, will not result in so large a price for the Northwestern farmer at present prices, as last year's crop promised at this date, but it will nevertheless help the general condition. A good harvest, even if prices are unsatisfactory to the grower, is still an element of public prosperity.

At the same time, however, that indications for spring wheat are unexpectedly favorable, the prospects for winter wheat have gone off considerably. The improvement of spring wheat and the deterioration in winter wheat is a sectional matter. The Northwestern States, including the Dakotas, Minnesota and Nebraska, are the spring wheat States, and they are precisely the ones which have been hardest hit by prevailing unfavorable conditions in agriculture.

The indication now is for a total wheat crop of 330,000,000 bushels, which is a little below the average production, but below the 1919 yield of 390,000,000 bushels and far below the bumper crop of 1,025,000,000 in 1917. The acreage and yield of winter wheat tends steadily to increase, while those of spring wheat have remained practically stationary for the past twenty-five years. Probably the fate of the greater part of the spring wheat area is to pass gradually into other agricultural uses.

The true wheat regions of the earth continue to be the winter wheat States. It is certain that the "central belt" of the United States, the winter wheat States, from Maryland and Pennsylvania through to the mid-western States of the Pacific northwest, are and will continue to be the chief home of wheat production and the proper granary of the whole world.—Boston Transcript.

NOTES and COMMENT

The congregated shoe dealers, characterizing the recent report of the Federal Trade Commission as "a direct insult to the great overwhelming majority of reputable retail shoe merchants throughout the United States," inflicts a direct slap on that body in a set of blistering resolutions, and there it is. The Federal body advertised on the fact that the price of shoes has not fallen in ratio with the fall in the price of hides and skins.

The bust of Luther Burbank lacks a suitable pedestal. It has been acquired without effort or cost, and Burbank recently dedicated his new dahlia to Oakland—and everything—and that there should be a problem as to a suitable mount for this work of art and honor is not entirely creditable to the art instincts of this considerable center.

The President has annulled that celebrated war contract for harness. It is estimated that it involved $25,000,000. As the harness horse has been so largely supplanted by the motor it would seem that somebody had rather expensive ideas as to this sort of leather gear.

"Hog oil" is a new brand of boot-leg merchandise, with the boob sometimes pays fancy prices for probably there is nothing new about it excepting its name, which has a certain cuteness that may appeal to those who daily with that which is submerged.

The article headed, "Authorities Scoff at Wheat Rust Rumor," refers to professed stories started to affect prices of the coming harvest. It is suggestive of the tactics pursued a year ago with regard to sugar.

Here is another instance. A burglar takes a pistol from a sleeping officer at Fresno. He thus qualifies to join the Roy Gardner and Terrence Kelly club.

At first glance the despatch to the effect that "Turks are warned not to take Constantinople" recalls the wheeze about the Dutch taking Jolland. But the warning is directed at the Turkish Nationalists, a new party which would supplant the dominant element by making things in civil strife.

The Congressman who has introduced a bill making it a capital offense to kidnap children will find some considerable backing. Law-abiding people, and especially parents, are anxious to feel that this crime is one of the most heinous that can be committed.

The query is raised as to just what law they will proceed under to discipline Admiral Sims. Although it is sometimes mischievous, and often unnecessary, there is no definite statute that inhibits talking.

As near as we can make out, a man named part of a Sacramento school lot to plant a crop of strawberries, carnations and sweet peas thereon. Now he complains because some of the youngsters traded his rented property to eat little green apples. Case is dismissed. ALEXANDRIA

"Certain cities have traits that persist. Recent rioting in Alexandria, Egypt, seems only a latter-day echo of the tempestuous city where Caesar was mobbed, where Caracalla once slaughtered all youths old enough to bear arms, and the Pagan beauty, Hypatia, fell victim to enraged rioters."

With this introduction a bulletin of the National Geographic Society points out that, though Alexandria may be popularly associated with disturbances, its influence is widely diffused in more significant ways.

The Londoner as he eats his breakfast eggs, the New Yorker as he strolls past Cleopatra's Needle in Central Park, the Philadelphian who sometimes rebels at the rigid checker-board street plan, the worshiper in a Christian church of any denomination—all owe something to the city which, in Cleopatra's time, was the commercial mistress of the Mediterranean.

"To explain: Until the war handicapped Mediterranean shipping Alexandria sent $1,000,000 eggs a year to London. It contributed one of its famous twin shafts of red granite to Central Park, New York, in 1881, the other one having been removed to London three years earlier.

"Demetrius of Rhodes, friend of the Macedonian Conqueror who founded and gave his name to Alexandria, laid out the streets in grid-iron regularity, thus setting a pattern which was copied the occidental world over.

"Finally Athanasius, known to churchmen as the Father of Orthodoxy, fought in Alexandria his bitter theological battle with the Africans and set forth doctrines still embodied in the creeds of many denominations. 'Land at Alexandria today and you may catch a boat-train to press on to Cairo, as far to the southeast as Washington, D. C., is from Wilmington, Delaware. This practice of tourists, of ignoring a city of 2,300 years of history and a present population of some 400,000, became so general that, in 1912, hotel men urged that the boat-trains be taken off.

"Arab guides will fight for the chance to conduct the visitor to the city's important relic of its ancient glory—the so-called Pompey's Pillar. Standing on Alexandria's highest hill this red granite shaft beckons the incoming ships as does the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor.

"The traveler who will defy the guides and forsake his guidebook will reap the reward of the adventure when he learns where 'Lebby' is to be had. This custard, made from water-buffalo milk, is highly esteemed by gourmets. Levantine women attired in latest Paris fashion, lend an exotic touch to the cafes.

"A trace of the Pharaoh's lifehouse, a wonder of the ancient world, nor the famous library of 700,000 volumes deposited therein by the Ptolemies. The tradition of the Arab destruction of this library is discredited, but the story of Caliph Omar's edict, giving the reason for the destruction will long be cited to illustrate a certain set of some human minds. After listening to a plea that the books be preserved, Omar, so runs the story, replied that if the books contained the Koran, the Koran they were superfluous. If they disagreed, they were heretical. Hence, he argued, they should be destroyed in either case."

"Well, certainly at the present time Germany is very much occupied."—Buffalo Express.

A LIE THAT RECOILED.

When the world was asked to believe that the colored troops which were maintained by France along the Rhine were a band of wild African cave men, largely engaged in carrying fair maidens off by main force, there were people who pretended to believe it. They even held mass meetings to protest against imaginary outrages by the negro soldiers. Others not so credulous suspected that the whole thing was part of a general program intended to discredit France. Subsequently the testimony of unprejudiced investigators was produced. Their conclusions were that the stories told against the troops had no other foundation than a few instances of misconduct which involved, not innocent girls, but the lowest type of female camp followers.

But that is not the end of the story. The weapon aimed at France proved harmless to those in front, but its kick was like that of a rusty musket. The recoil was awful. No boomerang ever reacted so vigorously. The Rhineland is a summer resort region. Its lovely hills and smiling castles attract their thousands and great is the profit of the Rhinelanders, but a Rhineland infested with wild men from Senegambia is no place for the children to play in. The Alps and the North Sea coast are much better. Hence it happens that the Rhineland is losing good business, and hence also Herr D. Reuter, of Baden, counselor of health, advertises in the Berlin Tageblatt as follows:

Fear of improper behavior on the part of French colored troops is devoid of all foundation, as I can guarantee from personal knowledge. As one has tobacco in any way collected and all stories of colored soldiers annoying bathers or boating parties are without foundation.

TOBACCO PRICES REMAIN HIGH.

How many remember when we paid ten cents for a two-ounce tin of very good tobacco? With the advent of the war the price began to go up; the quantity began to go down, until before the armistice we were paying sixteen cents for the same two-ounce tin. In other words, tobacco that cost five cents an ounce was increased to a trifle over nine cents an ounce. And now, with unmanufactured tobacco selling at the lowest prices in years and growers holding their tobacco because of the low prices and the newspapers reporting a poor tobacco market with no sales, the tobacco manufacturers are still turning out smoking tobacco in the same quantity and at the same high price.—New York Herald.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

Because of increase in wages granted to cooks and waiters, Oakland restaurant proprietors raise prices as follows: Sirloin steak, 30 to 35 cents; veal cutlets, 15 to 20 cents; sausage, 10 to 15 cents. And, according to THE TRIBUNE of this date, 1901, the patrons complained loudly.

Rev. J. C. Wooten appointed assistant secretary of the Oakland Y. M. C. A. to succeed William McManus.

Rev. J. H. Goodell resumes the pastorate of the Market-street Congregational church after an absence of five years, during which time he served as a professor in the Pacific Theological Seminary.

VETERINARY OFFICE MAY BE DROPPED

Proposed Action Would Oust
Dr. Charles C. Wing; Measure to Be Taken Up At the Session of Council Tuesday

The office of city veterinarian of Oakland will be abolished and Dr. Charles C. Wing, the present veterinarian, will be discharged if an ordinance introduced before the city council today by Commissioner F. F. Morse is passed next Tuesday after a report has been rendered by the efficiency expert.

Morse contended that with the establishment of a complete motorized fire department and the doing away with the last team of horses, which subsequently was turned over to the street department and sold as were thirteen other teams abolished within the past three months, there was no further use for a veterinarian. Morse declared that the city veterinarian at present has no duties to perform and that maintaining the office was an overhead expense to the city.

Commissioner Baccus was in doubt as to the duties of the veterinarian, holding that his office was responsible for the inspection of dairy cattle, and recommended that the matter be referred to the city efficiency expert for a report.

"I see no reason why we shouldn't table this matter until the new commissioners take office," said Edwards. "It is a matter of policy, although the office may be of no use to the city."

"I have no objection to putting the matter over," said Morse, "but I merely want to make good my promise to this council when I said at the time I requested the purchase of fire apparatus that it would eliminate the cost of several head of horses and the services of a veterinarian. Since the establishment of the motor apparatus we have saved $33,000."

The ordinance will come up again on Tuesday following the report of the efficiency expert, which will deliver into the duties of the city veterinarian.

Honors Are Paid to Dead Attorneys
Memorial exercises for the late William B. Smith, Oakland attorney, who died several days ago from a heart attack and for Attorney Walter F. Frazier, drowned near Portland a few weeks ago, were held this morning in the courtroom of Superior Judge E. C. Robinson.

The exercises were under the direction of the Alameda County Bar Association. Resolutions of condolence containing tributes to each were read and adopted. Five superior court judges sat on the bench during the proceedings.

The following attorneys spoke: J. W. Gwilt, Burton Harvey, Rex Linforth, J. A. Kennedy, John J. McFarland and W. E. Wells Jr.

Actress, Star in Divorce Suit, Again in Court

One of the friendships of Mrs. Florence May McManus Booth, English actress and heroine of a recent whirlwind marital experience and subsequent court action in Oakland against her newly-found husband, has met the same fate as her matrimonial venture. It has gone on the rocks.

Judge Harry W. Pulcifer's court is the setting of the latest chapter in the record of the latest flare-up. There Mrs. Emma Appiarus, erstwhile warm friend and supporter of Mrs. Booth, and her husband, E. L. Appiarus, are suing Mrs. Booth for $200 alleged to be due for board and lodging for several months.

CALLED HER IMPOSTER.
Mrs. Booth, the actress McManus, married Harold Booth, also a native of England, in Oakland, July 30, 1920. His age was given as 38 and hers as 28. Only eight weeks their romance lasted. Then they separated and Mrs. Booth filed a suit for separate maintenance, declaring her husband had property worth $15,000 and an income of $400 a month. She charged him with calling her "a bloody Irish imposter," beating her and saying he wished she would drop dead and that if he could get hold of her he would kill her.

Booth filed a cross-complaint saying his wife ridiculed his table manners; once forced him to walk two paces behind her on the streets of Oakland because she did not approve of his shoes and hat; told him her religion prevented her from eating a divorce but did not prevent her from returning to England and living with a man other than her husband; threw her wedding ring in his face and once said when he entered the house: "My God! What a sight! What have I married?"

AWARDED $50 A MONTH.
She was awarded $50 a month as separate maintenance. Mrs. Booth says she did work enough around the Appiarus home to pay for her board and that she gave Mrs. Appiarus many presents. The latter says she never did anything but lie in bed until late and sometimes wipe the dishes and that the only things she ever offered as gifts consisted of three pillow slips.

Mrs. Booth says she will show that during her separate maintenance suit the Appiarus couple testified in a divorce and said they were giving her board without charge at their home.

Hicks found the animal wandering along Park street, the main thoroughfare of Alameda, and took him to the pound. He conveyed the animal to the pound.

"Why say," remarked Hicks, "it did my heart good to have to take that horse in. That is the first one I have had to impound since the automobile became popular. Maybe the horse is coming back again."

Lumber Rate From Pittsburg Protested
SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—The Redwood Manufacturers' company, wholesale lumber dealers of Pittsburg, Contra Costa county, protested to the Railroad Commission today that the rate on lumber from Pittsburg to Southern California equals that from Klamath Falls, Ore., to San Pedro and other ports in the south. They ask that the S. P. Santa Fe and the Ramco Steamship Company reduce rates.

FRESNO GETS SCHOOL CHIEF OF PIEDMONT

Superintendent Cooper Quits
$5000 Job for $6000 One in Raisin Center; Has Good Record About Bay Region

William John Cooper tendered his resignation as superintendent of schools in Piedmont to the Piedmont school board last night to become superintendent in Fresno.

Cooper's resignation was accepted conditionally that he find a suitable successor for the Piedmont superintendency. He is under a four-year contract to Piedmont which has one year to run. Several candidates for his position are now under consideration.

Cooper graduated from the University of California in 1906 with his Master's degree and with Phi Beta Kappa honors. He was employed for a year with the Western Electric company in San Francisco and then went to the Stockton High school for three years. Later he became vice-principal of Berkeley High school for three years, which position he resigned to become director of social studies for the Oakland schools. Three years later he accepted the call to Piedmont.

Though officially superintendent of schools of Piedmont, much of his time during the war was occupied in war service as business manager of the Student Army Training Corps which was operated in connection with the colleges and universities of the nation during the war. Cooper is also past president of the California Teachers' Association and of the bay section, California High School Teachers' Association.

SALARY IS $6000.
His salary in Piedmont has been $5000 and in Fresno will be $6000 a year.

At Fresno, Cooper will succeed J. O. Cross, who is leaving that city after a four-year term to become superintendent of schools at Santa Rosa. He is now preparing a closing report for the Piedmont school trustees and will assume his duties in Fresno on July 1.

YOUTH SAVES HOUSE WITH GARDEN HOSE

Son's Action, Checks Fire On Roof of the Residence of City Commissioner - Elect
Colbourn in Hudson Street

The home of Frank Colbourn, city commissioner-elect, at 364 Hudson street, was saved from destruction by fire today when his 16-year-old son, Frank Colbourn Jr., hooked up the garden hose and kept a roof fire under control until the fire department arrived to extinguish the flames.

Investigation by Fire Chief Elliot Whitehead disclosed that the fire did about $800 damage. It is believed by the chief to have been caused from sparks alighting on the roof from a nearby chimney.

The fire started on the fore part of the roof of the house and had gained considerable headway before it was noticed by a passing motorist, who turned in a fire alarm and then went to the house to warn Mrs. Colbourn and her son, who were in the house.

Danger to County from Alternative Plan Told Berkeley Business Men

BERKELEY, June 17.—Fear of the alternative and ultimate county division was expressed last night at a meeting of the affiliated clubs held at the high school auditorium. Presentation of the dangers of the alternative proposition in the city and county consolidation plan as expressed by Joseph B. Knowland, publisher of THE TRIBUNE, was followed by questions from the audience as to whether or not the freeholders could take steps to avert a division of the county by withdrawing the dangerous proposal from the ballot.

Denying in one breath that the alternative presented any danger of county division, Charles H. Spear, member of the board of freeholders who presented the argument for consolidation to the audience, admitted in the next breath that a dividing line might be drawn at San Leandro creek should the straight consolidation issue fail to pass at the first election.

"There is no danger of county division which should the alternative be placed on the ballot at all," demanded H. D. Irwin, realty broker, after Spear had reiterated that county division was not a probability. Spear attempted to explain that if certain sections of the county desired a new form of government they were entitled to have it and said that under the law the freeholders had no other power in submitting an alternative proposition but to frame the issue containing the present provisions.

COUNTY DIVISION MENACE.
Knowland in his talk declared that three new separate governments of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda would spring up should the alternative go through and declared a division of the county was inevitable. He stated he was not opposed to county consolidation but was strongly against county division which the alternative would bring about; that it was regrettable that the placing of the alternative on the ballot would prevent the chance from being discussed upon its merits, leaving no chance to the voters but to declare for or against county division. He also declared that he would not object to the alternative if it permitted Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley in the second election to vote for the consolidation of these three largest and populous cities, an adverse vote in any one of these three cities defeating the movement and thus removing all chances of dividing the county into three or four separate units and preventing any future genuine consolidation.

"Then Emeryville or any other community cut off in this manner would be forced to join with some other city whether it wanted such a thing or not, wouldn't it?" asked G. H. Ward. "In other words we would be forming a government on people which they did not want. That hardly seems a fair proposal to me."

"That would be the exact situation," answered Knowland, whereupon Richard Lowe declared that it might be a good thing for Emeryville or other similar cities if they were forced to join with larger communities.

QUESTIONS ASKED.
If the alternative affords the big opportunity for consolidation as Mr. Knowland has stated, can't the freeholders take the proposal off the ballot?" asked Charles F. Naylor of the South Berkeley Commercial Club, which organization had previously gone on record as favoring the plan. "Have the freeholders any power to take this proposal off once they have voted on it?" asked Naylor.

"The charter which the freeholders will submit and any of its attendant proposals can be changed until the day the copy is sent to the printers," answered Spear.

J. D. Inskeep, school teacher, demanded to know if to avoid county division, the legislature could not hold up any charter of any city which was not satisfactory to the entire county. He was informed by Knowland and J. E. Fomberton, who presided at the meeting, that the time to act was before a charter was adopted by any city. "If Oakland votes for a charter, the rest of the county has no right to hold up what the majority of citizens in that city wants," said Knowland. "The time to act is before a charter can be adopted and before county division actually menaces us."

ALTERNATIVE DEFENDED.
Last night's discussion was opened by an argument for consolidation (Continued on Page 20)

CONFERENCE ASKED TO AID UTILITY PLAN

Mayor Bartlett Asks Eastbay
Cities to Consider Water
Dist. Problem Under New Law Passed by Legislature

A meeting, at which action will be taken toward the formation of a public utilities district under the new law, will be held in Berkeley within the month when Mayor Louis Bartlett calls a conference of the mayors and city officials of the various communities of the Eastbay. The statement issued by Mayor Bartlett follows:

"Of course, water is our greatest problem and such a utility will probably be the first step taken under consideration. Municipally owned electric power and lighting systems should be next in line."

BODY WEIGHTED WITH ROCKS IS FOUND IN BAY

Described As 5 Feet, 10 Inches Tall, Weighing 170 Pounds, Well Dressed.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—The body of a man was found floating in the bay between piers 24 and 25 today by Captain Frank E. King of Peterson launch No. 17. The man had filled his pockets with rocks in an effort to make sure that his body would go to the bottom.

Demurrs Dismissed in "Court" Leak Case

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Justice Sissons in district supreme court today dismissed the demurrs that had been filed to the indictment of Ashton P. Embury, E. Millard Mayer, Barnett E. Moses and J. Harwood Graves, and ordered that the cases go to trial on their merits. The four men were indicted for conspiracy against the United States in surreptitiously obtaining advance information on important Supreme court decisions and using the information thus obtained in Wall street speculation.

"Bluebeard" Watson Is Slayer of Contra Costa Woman, He "Confesses"

Has the Franklin canyon murder mystery which has baffled the police for more than two years been solved with the latest "confession" of "Bluebeard" Watson at San Quentin, or has a man tormented by many similar crimes been led to believe himself responsible for one he did not commit?

These two questions, together with the admission that the latest statement from Watson is probably the best explanation of the canyon murder that will ever be given, are interesting the police and sheriffs of Central California today following the declaration of Dr. Jau Don Bull that Watson has made a confession that he believes he committed the crime.

HAS NO RECOLLECTION. In a statement to the Oakland psychologist Watson says that he has studied the crime in detail and that he is convinced from his own experience at the time, from the similarity of methods used, that he is responsible. The prisoner, however, has no actual recollection of the act or of the identity of the victim. All he knows is that he was in Contra Costa county at the time, that later he went to San Francisco in that curiously relaxed state that followed the other crimes that he has committed. Dr. Bull places great importance in the disclosure.

The murder of the unidentified woman in the hills of Contra Costa county has long been a mystery to test the detective powers of city and county authorities. The body was found in the lone Franklin canyon several months after the crime had been committed and there was nothing upon which an identification could be traced. Dr. W. A. Cruikshank made a chart of the teeth, which was sent to all parts of the country and skull measurements and analysis of the hair convinced Heinrich that the woman was a gypsy. Again and again promising clues seemed to develop only to fade upon investigation.

WATSON IS UNCERTAIN. If Watson committed the Franklin canyon murder, the authorities believe, the victim was a woman with whom he became acquainted while he was fleeing from Washington. For some time Dr. Bull has been conducting a series of investigations into Watson's career. According to Bull, Watson said to him:

"I have been accused of a number of murders that for a long time I have been convinced I never committed. But I know that I have killed, and retain only a faint remembrance of it. I have studied detailed reports of these murders, and I am convinced that I must have committed them. For these women were killed in just the same way I always killed. I do remember that I was in that vicinity at the time the murder was committed. Although I have no remembrance of them, yet it must be that I committed them."

"I remember I was in the state of Washington just a short time before with a woman, and a blind impulse came to me to kill her. I tried to resist it, and almost went wild."

TORTURED BY IMPULSE. "In a frenzy, I jumped into my automobile and started to get away from her. I drove south, day and night, with the impulse to kill still torturing me. I remember coming through Oregon and crossing into California."

"I was in Contra Costa county about the time this woman was killed. Soon after that I remember being in San Francisco in a peaceful state of mind, a condition that always followed after I had given way to my impulse to kill. That is all I know about it."

After having been convicted of killing a woman near Los Angeles and after confessing to the murder of a number of women, most of whom he had married. He is regarded by criminologists as one of those arch-criminals of degenerate type whose appearances from time to time have written chapters of horror in the pages of history.

Four Rescued From Death Land in Jail

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—Saving two young women and two sailors from death in a blazing downtown hotel today, Detectives Parsons and Vail and Patrolman Miller first extinguished the flames, which had been caused by a carelessly thrown cigarette stub, then took the quartet to the city jail. They gave the names of Thelma LaVerna and Vivien Kaplan. The men said they were C. H. Aldrich and H. P. Sturma.

Waterfront Worker Attacked by Six Men

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Another fracas attended the waterfront strike today when Stanley O'Connell, a recent arrival from Los Angeles, stopping at the Chicago Hotel, 636 Pacific street, was severely beaten. O'Connell was walking on Howard street when six men sprang upon him, called him a "scab" and proceeded to pummel him. After he was down, he managed to trip one of them and, crawling out of the struggling mass, took to his heels and ran to the Harbor police station. His assailants escaped.

LIBRARIANS HAVE CERTIFICATE PLAN

TAHOE CITY, Lake Tahoe, June 17.—The plan for voluntary certification of librarians, recommended by Charles S. Greene, librarian of the Oakland Free Library, was adopted this week at the annual convention of the California Librarians Association, in session here. The action is regarded as one of the most important of several years by leaders in the organization. It is expected to have a large influence upon the nation-wide campaign of librarians for legal certification.

Officers of the association have been elected as follows: President, Miss Althea H. Warren, librarian, San Diego Free Library; vice-president, Sidney Mitchell, associate librarian, University of California; secretary-treasurer, Miss Eleanor Hitt, librarian, San Diego County Free Library.

Harold L. Leupp, University of California, was elected delegate to the American Library Association convention. His alternate is Mrs. Elizabeth Gray Potter, librarian, Mills College.

Among those who participated in the convention program during the week, are: Robert G. Sprout, comptroller, University of California; Irving Pichel, Greek Theater staff, University of California; George T. Clark, librarian, Stanford University; Miss Cornelia Marvin, librarian, Oregon State Library; Miss Margaret Hatch, librarian, Standard Oil Company, San Francisco.

Who, What Is an Alien? Tribune Bureau Answers

A timely letter on the subject of the alien poll tax just came in to the Information Department. The letter follows:

In reference to alien poll tax. What is an alien? Of course I know a person coming from foreign shores to this country is an alien, but I want to know: During the past war men were desirous of getting into the game and went and joined the colors of another country. Now at the time of their enlistment, being natives of this country, they had to swear allegiance to the flag they were fighting under. Is a man who does that classified as an alien? Does a person have to pay $10 a year for this distinction?

Also: What size town is Newman, Stanislaus county, and has it a local paper?

A SUBSCRIBER.

An alien is an unfnaturalized foreign resident.

Any former American citizen who swore allegiance to the flag of another of the allied nations during the war can obtain repatriation papers at the county courthouse, Fifth and Broadway.

Newman, Stanislaus county, had a population of 1251 in 1920.

ANTI-ALIEN LAND LAW TEST FILED IN TACOMA, WASH.

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 16.—Attorney-General J. L. Thompson has been served with a copy of a petition filed in the U. S. District court at Tacoma, Wash., for a writ ordering him from enforcing the Anti-Alien Land law passed by the 1921 State Legislature, it became known today. Hearing of the petition has been set for June 24 in Tacoma.

Frank Terrace, landlord, and N. Nakatsuki, Japan, tenant of farming land in King county, petitioned for the writ, alleging the law to be in violation of the State Constitution and the Fourteenth Amendment of the Federal Constitution. The action is the first test proceedings on the act to be brought in the State.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is Multisified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls of Multisified will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

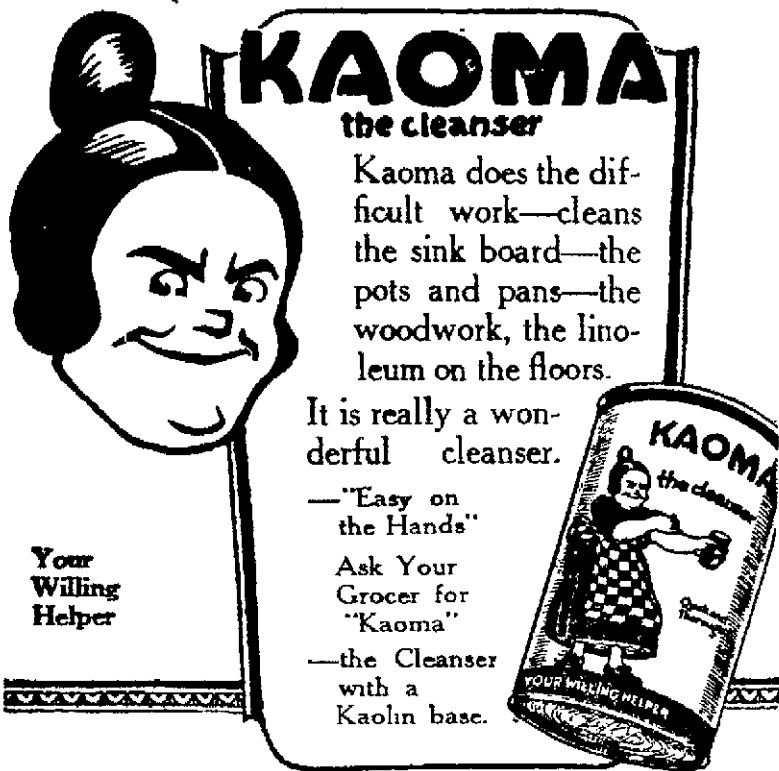

You can get Multisified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multisified.—Advertisement.

Legion Buys House for Benefit Shows

Five reels of war pictures taken by the Signal Corps of actual battle scenes in France, called "The Price of Peace," and a one-reel picture showing the surrender of the German fleet at Scapa Flow, will be shown at Kinema theater on Monday and Tuesday, in addition to "The City of Silent Men." The battle pictures were secured by Oakland Chapter No. 7, American Veterans of the World War, who have bought out the house at the Kinema on Tuesday and Wednesday for the purpose of raising funds with which to send three delegates to the national convention of the wounded men's organization. The pictures are being furnished by the Signal Corps, United States army, and show actual battle scenes. The picture showing the surrender of the German fleet has never been exhibited here. The veterans hope to realize enough money from the two days; they have the theater to send three delegates to the convention in Detroit, June 27 to 30.

Pineapple Pie—Beat 1/2 cupful butter, 1 cupful sugar and the yolks of 3 eggs to a cream. Add 1 can Crushed or Grated Hawaiian Pineapple. Dissolve 1 tablespoonful cornstarch in a cup of sweet cream and add to the pineapple. Mix thoroughly. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff and fold in lightly. Bake, evenly, in a shallow pan.

Pineapple Sherbet—Strain 1 can Grated Hawaiian Pineapple and add 1/2 cupful of sugar to the solid fruit. Let this cook slowly for 1/2 hour, then chill. Beat 3 cupfuls of water and 1 1/2 cupfuls sugar together for 15 minutes, then cool. To this cold syrup add the juice from the can of pineapple and the crushed pineapple. Turn the mass into a bowl and pack with ice and sugar. Garnish with pineapple and mint leaves.

Turn the mixture slowly for the first 10 minutes, then rapidly until the mixture is frozen—about 10 minutes more. Keep open the can from the cover of the freezer and remove. Take out the frozen sherbet and let it melt slightly. Cover and let it stand in a bowl for 10 minutes. Then turn it into a bowl and let it stand for 10 minutes. # OAKS HEROIC EFFORTS KEEP SEALS AT TOP OF THE LEAGUE

SEAL HITTERS IN SLUMP AND THE TEAM FAILS TO WIN BEHIND ORDINARY PITCHING

SEAL PITCHERS UNABLE TO WIN WHEN TEAMMATES SUFFER HITTING SLUMP

Oaks Keep Transbay Club At the Top Again by Slipping Beating to the Coyotes.

By EDDIE MURPHY

Horseshoes must be dangling around the necks of the entire San Francisco baseball club these days when they appear to be in their worst slump of the season. Yesterday afternoon at Seattle they suffered another defeat at the hands of Bill Kenworthy's Indians, but they still are out in front because the Oaks did them the big favor of trouncing the Sacramento Coyotes again. For the past couple of weeks fans have predicted that the Seals were due to hit a slump, for they didn't see how a team could go along as they have, and now it looks like those fans will be able to go around for awhile and say to their neighbors: "I told you that those Seals were going to hit a slump some time, and that they would have a hard time shaking it." Yes, fans, right now the Seals appear to be in a very bad slump, for they have won but one ball game in their last seven played.

But for the grand work that the Oaks have done against the Coyotes in winning the last two games, those Seals would today be looking up at the Coyotes and a lot of fans on the other side of the bay might be saying a lot of kind things about the boys who draw their checks from the Oakland owners. Six defeats in seven games played is a very poor showing for a first place club to make, and maybe after all that expected slump of the Seals has come at last.

Seal Pitchers Seldom Win a Close Game.

There are more reasons than one that can be given for the slump of the Seals. The pitching staff of that club is hardly of the strength of the average first place team and it was always said that the Seals would be a losing ball club once their hitters hit a slump in hitting or went up against some high class pitching. That seems to be the best excuse to offer for the Seals' present slump.

The batters are gathering the number of hits and runs as they have been, at least that is so in their last games with the Angels and Indians. And the pitching staff of the Transbay club isn't the kind that any pitcher can be picked from and be expected to go in and pitch an airtight game. So when the pitcher on the opposing team has a good day against the San Francisco batters, the Seals usually lose. That has been proven by the Seals losing most of the games when the scores of them were low. Also the Seals have won a couple of extra innings games, but in all of them the Seals' pitching staff is helpless in putting over a win. The Seals have hit fairly well against the Los Angeles and Seattle pitchers, but nothing near like they did when they were in winning form. The Oaks were in a fine batting mood at the Oakland park yesterday

Indians Trim Seals 3 to 2 In 12 Frames

And Nearly All the Seals Dropped Dead When Rath Hit a Homer.

SEATTLE, June 17.—Manager Bill Kenworthy of the Seals, who has been the victor in the last two games, put over on the San Francisco club here yesterday, and making it two wins in a row over that club. In the twelfth inning he put an end to a great pitching duel between Johnny Cough and Al Demaree when he squeezed the winning run over the plate. Demaree pitched a far better game than did his rival. He allowed only six hits in the twelve frames and fanned nine, while Cough was touched for sixteen hits. The visitors gave their pitcher wonderful support and didn't make an error behind him. Jimmy Cavaney was the leading star, hitting ten, including several of them being very hard.

Three home runs added to the excitement. O'Connell and Rath getting them for the visitors. Nearly all of Rath's teammates wanted to fall to the ground when he hit his circuit smash. Stumpf did it for the locals. Jimmy Middleton kicked through with a pair of doubles. The final score was 3 to 2. The score: SEATTLE: AB R H O A. Rath, 2b, 5 0 1 1 0. Cavaney, rf, 5 0 0 0 0. ### HOME RUN MARK ESTABLISHED AT PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, June 17.—A record for hitting home runs in one game was established here yesterday when three homers were hit in the game in which the Angels defeated the Beavers 5 to 4. Homers by Niehoff, Griggs and Crawford of the visitors and Hale of the Beavers brought the total for the season to date up to thirty for thirty-three games played here. That is more than has been done here before in one whole season.

Every one of the homers by the Angels came when men were on the bases.

Sylvester Johnson and Quinberry pitched for the Beavers, and Crawford for the Angels. The score: LOS ANGELES: AB R H O A. Niehoff, 1b, 4 0 1 1 0. Griggs, 2b, 4 0 1 1 0. Crawford, rf, 4 1 1 1 0. ### Gossip for Baseball Fans

Too bad that those Seals can't put a win or two, over on the Tigers while the Oaks are going along so well. The locals are out of the game and a half out of the first division, but somewhat nearer to the Seals and Coyotes than they were on Tuesday.

A few more results like the Indians and Oaks turned in on Wednesday and yesterday will certainly tighten the race up.

It must make those Portland fans sick to think that their club is only twenty-four games from the top. And Walter McGredie has the heart to say that he intends to start one of his famous Fourth of July drives, like he used to a few years ago.

Louie Gulito robbed the Coyotes of a run in the second inning by making a backhanded stop of Elliott's fast grounder and tossing to Allen for the last out. Ryan was on third at the time.

Ray Brubaker also made a great play when he grabbed Sheehan's high bouncer with his bare hand and tossed the Coyots out at first. The ball took a mean hop as Brubaker went to field it.

Hack Miller pulled out of his hitting slump by getting three out of four. One was a corking triple to right center.

Buddy Ryan crashed a liner against the right field boards and got a triple on it.

Jimmy O'Connell hit another homer for the Seals, making it three in two days. The tall Seal got three hits for the day, the same as he did the day before.

Jimmy Cavaney failed to get a hit in five attempts yesterday, and will have to do some improving in the remaining games of the series in order to remain the leading hitter for the Seals.

The Chicago Cubs have a left fielder named John L. Sullivan, and he was a champion yesterday. He hit two doubles and a single that did a lot to beat the Giants, 5 to 4 in thirteen innings.

Terry got two hits, and Haplocher, Maser and Kiefer one each for the Cubs. Bancroft hit a double and single, and Kelly two singles for the Giants.

Frish hit five safe ones six times at bat for the Giants.

Pittsburg defeated Brooklyn 5 to 5 in seven innings. Walter Schmidt hit three safe ones for the Pirates.

The Reds defeated the Phillies 9 to 2. Bohne hit a single and stole a base.

It was a great day for extra inning games in the National. The Braves and the Cards 5 to 4 in fifteen innings. A homer by Schultz, with a man on in the seventh, tied the score. He was batting for Yertica, who started the pitching for the Cards.

Shipbuilders Wallop Goat Island Sailors

The Union Construction Baseball Club traveled to Goat Island and trounced the sailors with the stick and in the field. He got four hits. Sam Hafey put four runs into the net. Hafey whiffed eight batters in seven innings. The score: UNION CONSTR. CO. NAVAL TRAIN. STA. H.I.E. AB R H O A. Smale, 1b, 3 1 0 1 2. Hafey, 2b, 4 1 1 2 0. Hafey, 3b, 4 1 1 2 0. Hafey, lf, 4 1 1 2 0. Hafey, cf, 4 1 1 2 0. Hafey, p, 4 1 1 2 0. Totals, 24 5 6 12 3.

Judge Landis Calls a General Meeting

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 17.—Commissioner K. M. Landis has called a special meeting of the club owners of the National and American leagues to be held next Monday morning in Pittsburgh. The meeting is to discuss and reach a uniform agreement on a certain regulation, not a playing rule, which the two big leagues have been interpreting differently. The nature of the regulation to be discussed is kept secret.

Pitching Machine Is Too Much for Ruth

NEW YORK, June 17.—Babe Ruth has met his match—but it isn't human.

Ruth failed yesterday at home, delivered by a pitching machine. He was hit by a compressed air. Slow balls, fast balls, low balls, fast and curved balls floated from the nozzle of the machine and Babe couldn't touch them.

He declared the difficulty was that the batter cannot tell when the ball will be let loose.

THIS TIME LAST YEAR

Tragesser's home run enabled the Phils to beat the Cards, 1-0, in a game between the Giants and Pirates only one New York player was thrown out at first base.

President Fultz, International league, ordered Alton and Baltimore to play over game of May 6.

Thousand Home Runs Likely This Season

NEW YORK, June 17.—Major league batters, if they maintain the present pace in home-run hitting, will crash out more than one thousand circuit drives this season, as compared with a total of 631 in 1920.

POLICEMAN AND
BURGLAR SUSPECT
EXCHANGE SHOTSTwo Men Are Arrested On Suspicion After Daring
S. F. Raid.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Following a daring duel with two burglars, caught in the act of breaking into the soft drink parlor of Henry Bush, Sutter and Steiner streets, at 3 o'clock this morning, a policeman and two suspects, one of whom is charged with attempted burglary and the other is being held on a vagrancy charge pending an investigation of his movements.

McCarthy was at Geary and Fillmore streets when he was accosted by William Anderson, of 25 Twenty-fifth avenue, who, enroute home in his car with two friends, had observed the burglars trying to gain an entrance to the Bush place. Jumping in the automobile, McCarthy returned with them. As he stepped from the running board he saw the pair in the act of climbing in a window. One of them, the larger of the two, quickly feigned intoxication and threw himself against the wall. Realizing that he was armed, however, he evidently changed his mind about submitting to being questioned. He drew his pistol and fired at the policeman. The shot was fired from a distance of about 25 feet, and the bullet, which was returned by McCarthy, and then fled toward Post street, dodging behind the gasoline station and on into Hamilton square.

McCarthy pursued and fired six shots, but the man succeeded in eluding him in the darkness.

SUSPECT CAPTURED.
DEMENTED COMPLICITY.

Meantime the second burglar had fled out Sutter street. McCarthy, combing the neighborhood for him, returned to the scene of operations and found a man answering the description of the smaller of the two culprits.

He took him into custody. He gave the name of Carl Eisenhardt, a sailor, and said he lived at the Charmagne apartments, 1033 Geary street. On reaching there the officers encountered John McDonald, another sailor, who answered the description of the burglar who had feigned intoxication and escaped in the confusion of shots. He denied complicity in the crime, asserted that he had spent the evening in the apartment of a woman on Post street and protested against arrest. He was nevertheless booked as a vagrant.

ONE BURGLAR IS BELIEVED WOUNDED.

Later Patrolman Horace Drury found a dark overcoat which had been worn by the armed burglar with a razor cut in the pocket. It had been dropped back of the gasoline station. Some time afterward Policeman William Bennett, in the same neighborhood, picked up the overcoat, which he found containing six empty shells. The overcoat showed blood stains, and Policeman McCarthy was of the opinion that one of his shots had taken effect. An examination of McDonald disclosed

Committees Make Effort
To Trim School Budget

Members of the budget committee of the Board of Education, together with the Citizens Budget Committee, will make a tour of inspection of the elementary schools to investigate the variously-aired charges of faulty plumbing in the schools. This was decided at a meeting of the two committees.

Lloyd Barzee, presented to the committees at that meeting three budget estimates—one covering the items for maintenance of the elementary school buildings, another the salary budget of the school system, and the third the salary budget for the administrative offices of the school department.

In the first of these a total of $194,725 is provided for replacement and repair of the lavatory systems in schools which have been declared to be insanitary by the Board of Health officials.

REPLACEMENT BUDGET.

The total for maintenance of the elementary schools is $183,145. This figure does not include any expansion of facilities but solely replacement of worn-out material and other replacement improvements.

Items in this budget estimate are: Plumbing, $73,88; heating and ventilation, $10,785; toilets, $104,925; pipes and grate repairs and chimney sweeping, $2049; floor and walls, $2745; roofs, leaders, gutters, $247; glazing, shades, awnings, $5068; painting and tinting, $19,524; hardware, $116; electrical, $3118; callings, $1250; other repairs, $2077; instructional equipment, $4558; building equipment, $14,285.

Proceeding to the discussion of the custodians' salary budget, it was disclosed that the junior work in the schools under the new estimate will run $9204 higher than it did last year. The increases are due to additional portable schools and additional rooms added to school buildings requiring an added amount of student help for the janitors of the various schools; and also for several additional positions. Thus "nursery matrons" are provided for the Clavson, Garfield and Lazear junior high schools.

HELP NEED QUESTIONED.

E. W. Williams, secretary of the Tax Association and George Sheldon of the Uptown Association questioned the need of nine full-time workers plus student help in the office of the school auditor, John W. Edgemoor.

Williams contended by comparison that the office of the county auditor has but ten clerks and yet the volume of business is several times that of the school department. In defense of the budget, Barzee and E. Morris Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, said that the school department's system of accounts was a particularly complicated one which required for much extra accounting work.

COST OF OFFICE.

The cost last year of this office was $18,390, which will be increased $660 to $19,050 by salary increases provided under civil service regulations.

The total cost of all administrative offices under the new budget will be increased $8140 over last year, making the total $19,050. The increase is caused by automatic civil service salary increases, the $5500 raise in pay granted to Superintendent Fred M. Hunter and to several new stenographic positions.

The committee adjourned to reconvene for discussion of other sections of the school department budget next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The exact date of the tour of investigation of the schools to inspect plumbing was not set.

Vocation Board to Change Its Offices

The San Francisco office of the Federal Board for Vocational Education will be removed tomorrow from the fifth floor of the Flood building, San Francisco, to the Glenwood building 216 Market street, where it now occupies the entire top floor. Supervisor J. M. Dodd and his staff of fifty training officers will use these offices continuously in the future for the supervision of the more than 1900 trainees now in San Francisco and the bay region. The expansion of the work of the local office made the change necessary.

The outstanding feature of the new quarters is that it is "open space" as compared with the former location which was cut up into small rooms.

BAIL FORFEITED.

EVERETT, Wn., June 17.—Clifford Coleman, who forfeited $300 on a liquor charge here, when arrested and found in possession of two stills, explained, according to the police, that he had intended to work his way through business college by "moonshining."

That he had not been wounded, but the police admit that for the present they have little on which to hold him.

DAN FERGUSON IS ACQUITTED ON
MURDER CHARGEShipyard Guard Who Killed
Goldstone Is Found Not Guilty by Jury.

Following a trial which brought out charges by the district attorney that the evidence had been framed, and counter allegations by the defense of unfair tactics, Captain Dan M. Ferguson, shipyard guard, is today a free man. He was tried for the murder of Paul Goldstone, worker at the Bethlehem yards.

With the action of the grand jury in recommending Under Sheriff J. H. Haggard and Deputy Sheriff Charles R. Blagburn, the two who took Ferguson from the county jail to the shipyards after an important document to be used as evidence, another angle of the case has been settled. District Attorney Decoto had brought the matter to the grand jury's attention, insisting that the sheriff's office had no right to allow a prisoner to leave the jail without an order from the court. Decoto did not ask for an indictment, but said that he would be satisfied with the recommendation.

The jury in the Ferguson case was out six hours before it returned the not guilty verdict. Closing argument in the case was unusually bitter. Former District Attorney W. H. L. Hyman, for the defense, and Deputy District Attorney Frank M. Shay, charging over charges of unfair methods. Shay attacked the testimony of defense witnesses, declaring that it was made of a fabric of lies, and said that the defense had been aided by the Oakland and Alameda police, who evidently believed that Goldstone had been a "bad actor" and that his death was deserved.

Hyman told the jury that the charges of "frame-up" surprised him greatly as they reflected on the police court, and denied that there had been any such framing, whereupon the district attorney replied that there was no reflection on the court, but that the framing had been attempted in advance so that the court could not help but act toward a dismissal.

FINANCE CENTER
HERE PREDICTED

With truthful advertising at opportune times, coupled with the unlimited natural advantages, Oakland will become the greatest financial and industrial center on the North American continent. W. H. Duncan, nationally known advertising expert, told members of the Mutual Business Men's Club at their weekly luncheon at the Hotel Oakland. Duncan spoke on the topic, "Advertising Good Advertising."

In his travels over the United States studying products which he contracted to advertise, and which netted millions of dollars annually, Duncan emphatically asserted that in no other city had he seen such possibilities as were exhibited in the metropolitan area of the Eastbay, of which Oakland formed the major portion.

CLIP WITH A FUTURE.

Duncan, who is considered one of the leading advertising experts of the United States, in the course of his talk said that he had heard of Oakland through other business men and that, after a quiet investigation of his own, he had arrived at the conclusion that Oakland was a city with a great future, and he left his position in New York to locate in Oakland.

One factor in the development of the Pacific Coast, particularly the San Francisco bay region, that is receiving much attention from business men in the east, is the problem of Oriental trade, which, Duncan declared, if properly handled and developed, would build San Francisco and the Eastbay areas into the greatest industrial and financial center in the world. It is only a matter of time, he said, until the United States

ROADHOUSE PLOT
REPORT PROBED
BY POLICE HEREWoman Found Screaming in Park Claims That She Was Drugged and Robbed.

Mrs. Emily Peterson, who told the police inspectors a story of being picked up in Irvington by a passing automobile, robbed and drugged by the occupants and then put out of the machine in Beulah park, is being held for investigation.

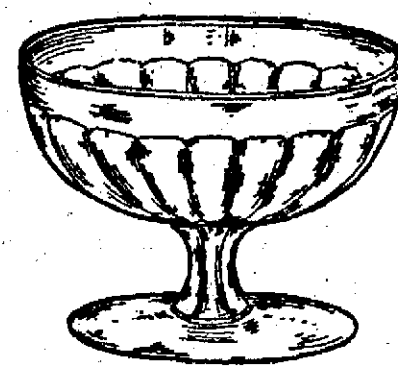

Shortly after midnight J. E. Blackburn, 3223 Twenty-third avenue was awakened by the screams of a woman calling for help. He got up and dressed and discovered that the sound came from Beulah park. He went into the park, and, after searching for a few minutes, he found the woman who, the police say, was under the influence of liquor or drugs. Blackburn took her to his home and then telephoned to the police.

She told Police Inspectors Joe Enright and Edward O'Donnell that she had been in Irvington soliciting for a silver company. While she was waiting for a stage bound for this city an automobile drove up and stopped in front of her. In the machine were two men and a woman, the man who was driving the machine told her that the auto stage had broken down and that she could ride to town in their machine.

Mrs. Peterson got into the machine and, after they had traveled for a short time, the machine stopped in front of a roadhouse. The entire party went in and had something to eat. She told the inspectors that she remembers nothing until she regained consciousness in Blackburn's home. She said that she had some money in her purse but she does not know the amount. A diamond ring she says was also taken from her finger. Mrs. Peterson was charged with being held intoxicated and is also being held for further examination.

A business man will recognize the unbounded possibilities in the Eastbay. Another factor in the development of California industry, Duncan said, was the hospitality displayed from every side. A business man is made to feel absolutely at home, no matter where he goes, he said, which is something very seldom seen in the eastern cities.

C. N. Cooper, president of the club, presided.
